RESIGNATION

December 1, 2023

Robin Jones, Chief Clerk
Colorado House of Representatives
Denver, CO 80203

Dear Chief Clerk Jones,

Effective December 11, 2023, I will resign my position as State Representative for House District 37. I am profoundly grateful for the honor and privilege of serving my community in the state legislature, and want to extend my thanks to the many people who have helped along the way.

Thank you to everyone who has supported me in serving my community. I'm also grateful to every constituent who has reached out during my term, whether it was to give your perspective on our policy work, or to let me know how the state can better serve you. Your engagement is invaluable.

While I'm proud of our legislative accomplishments, it has recently become clear that the sensationalistic & vitriolic nature of the current political environment is not healthy for me or my family. Despite this, I am thankful to the many people in the Capitol who have made this past year so productive, illuminating, and often fun. I am confident that we in District 37 will continue to benefit from responsive and visionary leaders in the legislature.

I am so proud to have represented my community in the State House this past year. It has been the honor of my life. Growing up here as part of a struggling family, I could never have imagined I'd have the privilege to represent my own community in such important work. I'm proud of what we in the legislature have accomplished on behalf of the people of my district, and for the state of Colorado. While it is bittersweet to leave, I take solace and pride in the fact that tireless public servants in the House will continue to work on policies that benefit the people of Colorado.

Sincerely,

/signed/
Ruby Dickson

RESIGNATION

December 18, 2023
Robin Jones, Chief Clerk
Colorado House of Representatives
Denver, CO 80203

Dear Chief Clerk Jones,

It is with a heavy heart that I tender my resignation from my position as State Representative in the Colorado State Legislature, effective December 31, 2023. This decision comes after careful consideration of various personal and professional factors.

The primary reason for my resignation is the financial strain that this position has imposed on my family. The compensation offered for the responsibilities and commitments of this role has not been commensurate with the cost of living and my family's financial needs. Doing this work has taken my focus off other ventures that have sustained me through my time here, and has caused a financial strain that can no longer be endured. This is a common problem for many legislators and creates a prohibitive environment for voices to be heard. Representation is held by those with the means to sustain themselves, and that has quickly become something I can no longer do.

I am grateful for the opportunities and experiences that this role has afforded me, and I am proud of the initiatives and efforts made during my tenure. I have always strived to represent the best interests of my constituents. This is the most rewarding work I have ever undertaken. I am deeply saddened that I can no longer continue to represent my constituents and their interests at the Capitol.

In addition to the lack of compensation, the environment has become characterized by vitriol and a lack of collegial behavior. The polarized and contentious atmosphere has hindered constructive dialogue. This has made it increasingly challenging to effectively serve the constituents and fulfill the duties of this esteemed office. I truly hope those that continue on with this work take notice and begin to have more open and honest dialogue about future legislation and decorum in the chamber. This is a place that can generate great results for the people of Colorado. I truly hope that the voices of the marginalized can rise above to effect the change needed.

I will work diligently to ensure a smooth transition of my responsibilities. I remain committed to supporting and advocating for the betterment of our state, albeit in a different capacity.

I extend my deepest gratitude to the residents of House District 31 for their trust and support throughout my tenure. I am optimistic about the future and will continue to remain engaged in serving our community. Thank you for your understanding and support during this transition period.

Sincerely,

/signed/

Speaker McCluskie addressed the Members House of Representatives:

Good morning and welcome to the People's House! It's wonderful to see everyone here. And It is my honor to open the Second Regular Session of the 74th General Assembly.

One of my favorite parts of opening day is seeing everyone's families, and especially all the new additions. Congratulations again to Reps. Daugherty, Jodeh, Andy Kenney with Colorado Public Radio, and soon Representative Luck!

I'm grateful to be joined here by my family. Thank you to my husband Jamie, and my parents Bob & Etta Strand. Your love, patience and support mean a great deal to me. I am blessed.

It's great to see the Republican leadership here in one piece after a successful summer on horseback. Everyone seems to be okay. No broken bones! Love to see it. Welcome as well to all our candidates for Congress. My goodness; there are a lot of you running this year!

For some of you, today will be your last opening day in the House. To Representatives Catlin, deGruy Kennedy, Herod, McLachlan, and Weissman. Congratulations on seven - soon to be eight - successful years of public service. Your dedication and leadership will be a powerful legacy!

I want to take a moment and ask all of you to join me in thanking all the wonderful people who make this place run. Our sergeants, custodial staff, nonpartisan staff in Legislative Council, Office of Legislative Legal Services, Joint Budget Committee, and our House Clerks. They do so much to make sure we can get our work done. Please join me in a round of applause.

Members, as we begin this session, I'd like to take a moment to remember someone we lost last year, a True Coloradan. One of the greats.

My friend and neighbor, John Fielder, showed us the immense beauty of our state and the feelings of wonder that are inherent to living in Colorado. I'm honored that his daughters, Katy and Ashley, son-in-law, Dan, and grandchildren, Savannah, Gigi, and Daniel, are here with us today. Please stand, and give them a warm welcome.

From our cities and our mountains to our waters, forests, clean air, lakes, and prairies, his photographs remind us that we are always called to protect the state that we love.

It's important to acknowledge that these beautiful lands as captured through John's lens were first those of the indigenous people who have called Colorado home for generations.

Last year, the leaders of the Southern Ute and Ute Mountain Ute Tribes addressed the General Assembly for the first time. As they prepare to do so again on Ute Day in March, I urge us all to listen and lend our support to the priorities they present.

With gratitude to History Colorado, today through the lens of John Fielder, Frank Muramoto, and Robert Wineberg, we will see reflections of our great state and something everyone can recognize as special. A place they've been. A moment that sparks curiosity. The grandeur of the natural world formed so long ago. Through their photographs, which will be displayed before you during my speech, we can see and feel the Colorado Spirit.

What you'll see in the photos behind me is what binds us together– the shared capacity to be in awe and to be moved by the Colorado Spirit. We are all people who feel the pressures, challenges and joys of serving our communities in these jobs.

The people who work here, serve here and visit here all deserve to be treated with dignity and respect at all times. That's the Colorado Way. It is also one of my three big goals for this session.

It's the Colorado Spirit that binds us together.

The first goal I want to talk about today is how we can guarantee a fair shake for every member, respect our diversity of lived experiences and identities, and make civility in our discourse a priority.

Each member represents thousands of Coloradans in just one district, each of us equal in our role as state representative. The House rules are here to guarantee that each member has one vote and one voice, and to ensure that no member's vote or voice is more important than another's.

A fair shake for every member also means the opportunity to speak to legislation, offer amendments, and engage in the legislative process with the understanding you will be treated with respect. My request is that we take a moment to consider what we say, how we speak to a bill and the words we choose to make our points.

To quote Ted Lasso who maybe quoted Walt Whitman: Be Curious, Not Judgmental. From Fielder's magnificent landscapes to Muramoto's 100 year old photos of Japanese Americans in Pueblo, we can see the curiosity they had for what was in front of their camera, and we can feel that Colorado Spirit ourselves when we look at their art.

I'd like us to remember that curiosity and spirit in how we approach our conversations to engage in authentic debate with each other. That means raising respectful questions that further our desire to explore the subject at hand.

It means listening and appreciating members' responses, putting down your phone, getting off of social media and having real conversations with one another.

We can engage on tough issues without disregarding the humanity and dignity of our colleagues or accusing each other of poor motives.

To assist in these efforts, House Leadership will develop a consistent rubric to guide our conversations in the well. My thanks to Assistant Majority Leader Bacon, Representative Weissman and Speaker Pro Tempore deGruy Kennedy for getting the work off the ground on this important initiative.

Finally, a fair shake means every lawmaker can come to work feeling safe. Let's recommit ourselves to our Workplace Expectations Policy and work together to create a warm, safe, welcoming culture here in this Chamber, our home for the next 120 days.

After all, this is the people's House. We have and will continue to take all steps necessary to honor the people who come here to share their hopes, dreams and concerns. I appreciate the work of our Chief Clerk and the House Services committee this interim to implement new guidance and training protocols for staff that allow everyone the opportunity to participate in the democratic process.

We can do all these things because we have done them before. Where we have fallen short in the past, we must redouble our efforts to do better this session.

One of the hallmarks of our legislature is that we find ways to reach across the aisle on important policies that impact our communities. Experience shows us that we're stronger when we collaborate, so my second big goal for this session is to renew our focus on how we can channel the Colorado Spirit and work together to achieve lasting policy results.

Last year, we passed important bipartisan legislation to reduce the risk of wildfires, improve student math scores, boost microchip production and create jobs. Working across party lines, we created the Office of School Safety, increased funding for special education, and improved transparency into hospital costs.

Two years ago, we worked together to allocate federal stimulus dollars to build more housing, expand workforce training, and increase access to behavioral health care. It's exciting to see these grants fund critical efforts all across our state.

Since we adjourned last May, more than $118 million from legislation we passed is building or preserving nearly 2,900 affordable housing units in 34 developments and 30 counties.

Buena Vista was awarded $1.35 million to build 129 units. Alamosa will deploy $4.2 million to build a community with 406 new affordable units for renters, homeowners and seniors. $6.2 million is adding 28 units to the Ordway East Duplex Development project in southeast Colorado. $3 million is helping build 175 units at the Hope Springs development in Greeley. And $4.4 million will go to rehabilitate the Helen Hunt Campus–transitional housing that serves the Pikes Peak region.

That's just to name a few.

Additionally, investing in our workforce is an issue that is near and dear to me. Now at over 20 higher education institutions from Otero, Fort Morgan and Pueblo Community Colleges to our area technical colleges and my home institution of Colorado Mountain College, students can now earn a completely free credential for a career in nursing, teaching, firefighting, construction, or law enforcement.

Opportunity Now grants are directing $90 million to 46 new career pathways that bring together education institutions and businesses to help workers learn the skills they need to enter high-demand industries.

For example, the Northeast Colorado BOCES will partner with Haxtun Health, the Colorado Education Initiative and Northeastern Junior College to create pathways to careers to meet workforce needs in northeast Colorado.

We have a dire need to support the recruitment and retention of teachers, particularly teachers of color. With teachers of color making up 40 percent of their graduate students, Relay School of Education will partner with Denver Public Schools and use nearly $2.5 million to offer four and two year licenses in teaching while participants work full time at partner schools.

In addition to supporting our workforce, we also allocated millions of dollars in broadband investments to connect thousands of Coloradans to high speed internet in Craig, Hayden, Montrose, Olathe, Ouray, Ridgeway, and Pueblo.

These are just a handful of the many success stories we share as a body. And it shows me that when we work together, we can make a real difference. While a lot of these grants received little fanfare, they are truly transforming Colorado communities.

Last year, Democrats had tremendous success working together and collaborating toward common goals shared by the vast majority of Coloradans. We passed a landmark package of reproductive health laws that will protect patients, expand access to abortion and secure the health care people in our state, or those coming here, need.

Public opinion polls show that Coloradans agree: common sense gun violence prevention laws make our communities safer. We passed five new gun safety measures that will crack down on ghost guns, require a three day waiting period, increase the age to purchase a firearm and allow victims of gun violence to seek justice.

When we worked together, we passed laws to save people money on health care, prescription drugs and utility bills. We created a right to repair for agriculture equipment!

I’m so proud of our work to save Coloradans money on electric vehicles, green transit options, and clean energy alternatives that will improve our air, protect our water, and help us meet our climate goals.

And during our special session, we came together with near unanimous approval from Democrats to deliver urgent property tax relief, rental assistance and significant support for working families.

It’s clear that when we collaborate, we get things done for Colorado.

As we redouble our efforts to work together, we do so with a clear objective in mind– to deliver the results Coloradans want to see. My third big goal this session is to help us be successful in passing policies that align with our shared values and make the progress Coloradans are looking for.

From our youngest Coloradans to students pursuing higher education degrees or looking to advance their careers, supporting learners at all stages will be front and center because education is the foundation of our society.

I am excited that this will be the year, the year, we finally eliminate the budget stabilization factor. This means we will deliver a historic level of funding to Colorado schools that districts can use to increase teacher and educator pay, reduce class sizes, and set our students up to thrive.

Reaching this overall funding level is a foundational achievement in and of its own, but we cannot stop there. We will drive equity into the school finance formula and bolster the funding that goes to our small rural remote districts and those with more at-risk students, or students in need.

This session will be transformative for education in our state– a monumental leap forward in our endeavor to offer every student the world class education they deserve.

And building on our work to improve K-12 education, we will continue to transform how Coloradans can enter the careers of their dreams in high-demand fields.

Businesses, chambers of commerce, colleges and universities, unions and trade associations are stepping up to create affordable pathways to the jobs of the future. These inspiring efforts are increasing employment and revitalizing communities who need workers. That is why we will continue to partner with these leaders to create an economy-for-all.

Also this year, we renew our efforts to make our state more affordable so that every Coloradan can live in the communities they call home. This begins with housing. Last year, we did not accomplish everything we'd hoped for, but this year, we will try again and deliver.

Over the summer, Representative Mabrey asked if I would go with him to Eviction Court. I cannot tell you how much I appreciated this experience. The hardship and economic instability that follows eviction is devastating for families and can lead to cycles of joblessness and homelessness.

Each and every eviction is heartbreaking, and this year Denver alone reached 13,000 evictions, the most since 2008 when records first started. I know how hard Rep. Mabrey and Majority Leader Duran are working to reduce evictions and help people have a fair chance to stay in their homes. I applaud their work to prohibit evictions except for cause.

Lawmakers this year will present a meaningful package of bills to build more homes and save people money on housing. This starts with a broad statewide and regional approach to housing assessments and planning. It includes legislation to legalize accessory dwelling units (ADUs) and multifamily housing near transit and incentivizes local governments to preserve housing stock Coloradans can afford.

Join me in this goal to deliver these critical policy outcomes that will make our state more affordable and boost the economic security of hardworking families.

Just as every Coloradan deserves a home they can afford, every Coloradan deserves to live safely in their communities free from gun violence. I am excited for the work this year to improve public safety and reduce gun deaths with common sense policies driven by data and science. We will not let a fringe group's lawsuits against the good work of this body deter us from saving lives.

Prioritizing the health and safety of Coloradans is a commitment we make and there should be no disagreement that our changing climate is harming communities in our state. Our response must meet the moment.

We cannot bury our heads in the sand with junk science and climate denialism while our neighbors face chronic health conditions from air pollution, annual wildfire evacuations, agricultural losses, and the erosion of our future.

Far too often, the impacts of this crisis fall disproportionately on people of color, marginalized communities and vulnerable Coloradans, leading to cycles of poverty and health disparities. It will continue to be a top priority for us to improve our air quality, crack down on harmful emissions, and increase transit options to protect the future of this state.

Building a brighter future for our state will always be our focus, but while we cannot right the wrongs of the past, we can learn and strive to eliminate the health, education, and economic disparities that continue to harm people of color in our state. This year, we will pass legislation to create a trail blazing investigation proposed and led by the Black Caucus to look into how systems of racism, state actions, and discrimination in housing, health care and education have led to longstanding inequalities for Black Coloradans.

We come here to serve all Colorado. While our efforts to build more housing, improve education, and protect our environment will boost our entire state, we know that rural Colorado and our agriculture industry are facing unique challenges that demand our attention.

From agriculture and outdoor recreation to tourism and mining, a mix of economic drivers fuel Colorado's rural economies, which are also facing a range of different pressures from environmental to market forces.

This session, we intend to reauthorize the bipartisan Rural Economic Development Initiative and Rural Jumpstart Tax Credit, which will create jobs and boost small businesses from our Eastern Plains to our Western Slope.

Water is intrinsic to the Colorado Spirit, and the lifeblood of our agriculture industry and tourism economies. The recent United States Supreme Court decision about the definition of Waters of the United States leaves many of our waterways in Colorado unprotected. In the wake of this difficult decision, we have an opportunity to take action to reestablish these critical protections.

Based on the recommendations of the Colorado River Drought Task Force, we will pass legislation to secure our water future for generations to come and protect the majestical and pristine landscapes of our beloved state.

Like the incredible Colorado landscape we seek to protect, photography is often breathtaking, inspiring and complex. The person behind the camera can choose what to put in their frame, what to bring into focus and what to leave to our imagination. But what the photographers I've featured today captured for us was something deeply truthful, the unadulterated force that is the Colorado spirit.

What we see at the national level with partisan politics and personal attacks is not what we want to see in Colorado. That's not the Colorado spirit. We can disagree without trying to score points. It is a choice we can make, and I urge us to embody the Colorado spirit in our debates.

This session is a new opportunity for all of us. Our recent experience shows that when we collaborate and listen to each other, we deliver on our progressive values and move Colorado forward.

Serving in this chamber is a profound privilege I hope we cherish and use for the good of all. Every one of you deserves a fair shake to do that, and I am committed to making sure that you have it.

Upholding our promises will require us to work together and hold one another accountable to be our better angels. Join me, join one another in making this commitment today.

Now it is time to get to work. The members of the House Majority were elected with a clear focus to deliver for Colorado, and my goal is to make sure that happens.

Thank you Members for your dedication to the people of our state, and it is my honor to open the Second Regular Session of the 74th Colorado General Assembly!

Minority Leader Lynch addressed the Members of the House of Representatives:

Well, here we are again! Why is it exactly that we come back to this room? Is it the prestige of being called Representative or getting to wear a suite everyday? Or maybe the snacks, or the cold pizza dinners? I think NOT. I hope it is because we are true Coloradans that care about our communities, that care about Colorado. A Colorado who's natural beauty in the outdoors has drawn many to vacation here and fall in love with that beauty, enough that they pack up their lives and relocate to live in this incredible environment. That common bond of the love of natural beauty has caused immense diversity in this state. We truly represent a melting pot of race, religion, education, levels, and interests.

How awesome is it to see this room filled to roof with those people and that diversity here today. We are assembled here today in the people's house. This is not the representatives house, this is the peoples house.

Take a look around at what our society has created to take up the concerns and needs of its citizens. This building and this institution is truly special in America.

As special as the reason it was built, which is to keep our society stable through the creation of laws. I hope we can embrace that these laws are not to constrain our citizens but instead free them from a tyrannical government, allowing them to be whatever God has blessed them with the ability to become.

Our initial establishment for this great land is that we come from a heritage of ensuring that the PEOPLE are in charge, NOT US in this chamber, but for us to be responsive to the people and carry the voices of the many thousands that each of us represent, and at the end of the day, our job is to constrain the government from being overbearing in our lives and taking away our freedoms. It is not our job to override the voices of our citizens but to lift them up.

That all sounds well and good, but the contentious process of getting to these seats clouds our vision of how we conduct ourselves once we get inside the gold dome. We are easily tempted to put party over the people and service takes a second seat to our personal ambitions. I implore you to remember it is not you that sits in those seats, it is the thousands of people who put you there. Most of them you agree with, but some of them you do not. Those voices are important as well! Those voices are the ones the minority represents here today. The voices you may not agree with but are still there to be heard from, in each one of your districts. I ask only one thing of you, please let those voices be heard.

The voices that continue to believe in limited government, property rights, and school choice. Those Coloradans who understand there is no such thing as government money, but understand it is their money, because government has no way of producing income outside of our citizens free market successes. Those entrepreneurs and business owners who feel they are over-taxed and over-regulated. Those citizens who support multiple energy choices in our state. The people in the agricultural parts of this state that ensure we have food on our table everyday. Parents who go to bed frightened that their child will buy an illegal drug on the internet – and die of a fentanyl overdose. Those who don't want to leave Colorado because they cannot afford the property tax because they are on a fixed income. And, those who do not feel security in their towns and just want safety on our streets.

The Minority will work everyday to ensure that those concerns are addressed through vigorous debate.

Today, the Republican minority comes to the floor of the House of Representatives in a small number. However, I can tell you we are bringing those who know how to serve, as almost half of our members have said that they are willing lay down their life for this country through their military service, literally representing every branch of service.

If my fellow veteran members of both sides of the aisle could please stand and be recognized. Every one of these members has put their name on the line saying they are willing to die for this country.

These are people who understand a mission and have the experience to accomplish it. We are also bringing a wealth of knowledge through career public servants and business leaders all of whom have very impressive resumes and many years of expertise to bring to our conversations of how to make the lives of Coloradans better. I could not be more honored to work with this very distinguished group of leaders and I am humbled to have the role of leading them in the 74 General Assembly.

So today, as we start this second session of the 74 General Assembly, may we first never forget we are servants of the people that will create history and records that will be handed down long after we are gone.

The actions and interactions between us will be judged by those who expect us to remain civil and above the fray of a petty tweet. If you have something to say to or about another member they are only a few steps away in this room.

May we boldly take those steps and discuss our differences face to face and come to an agreement, even if that agreement is to disagree but walk away from that fellow human with an deeper understanding of the opposing point of view. I will make that commitment right now, I also don't really know how to work twitter!

But seriously we are not going to agree, we are going to vigorously defend our differing opinions, we are going to be delighted and disappointed from day to day. May we also never forget that we are colleagues and individuals with way more in common as humans and Americans than we have in differences as members of a political party. I am looking forward to the work we have ahead of us, and getting to know each of you as we work for a better Colorado. May God bless Colorado.

House in recess. House reconvened.

ADDRESS BY THE HONORABLE
Jared Polis

Welcome.

Over the last year, I've been thinking a lot about who we want to be when our great State turns 150 years old in two years? As we envision our future together, I'm reminded of President Kennedy's speech at Rice University in 1962. Because it was there that he articulated his bold vision, saying, "We choose to go to the Moon in this decade... not because [it's] easy, but because [it's] hard."

He took a seemingly impossible goal, something never attempted in human history, and made it a mission. The "moonshot" goal, as it came to be known, set a standard, not just for the United States, but the world, and it ushered in a new era of American innovation. Seven years later, Neil Armstrong spoke those famous words, "One small step for a man, one giant leap for mankind" - turning the moonshot goal into mission accomplished. It wasn't easy. But with a vision to guide them and that famous American work ethic, they got it done.

Throughout Colorado's history, we've often been the ones leading the change, blazing new trails, turning our dreams into reality. We've literally moved mountains, building roads and tunnels and railroads through the impenetrable Rockies.

We were the first state in America to pass voting rights for women through a vote of the people - cementing our place as a State that not only cherishes and upholds the rights and freedoms of people, but expands those rights in pursuit of a more perfect state and nation.

Colorado's Republican Governor Ralph Carr stood virtually alone among high-ranking elected officials in opposing the forced relocation of Japanese-Americans during World War II, and in condemning racial prejudice.

Over the last five years, we've blazed new trails in Colorado in early childhood education with the creation of free, full-day kindergarten and free universal preschool – saving Colorado families thousands of dollars and giving our children the best possible start in life.

Colorado was the first state to legalize recreational use of cannabis, setting a standard for innovation, safety, and economic mobility that has been replicated by other states and countries around the world. Now, thanks to our voters, we're once again leading the nation on natural medicine, unfreezing 50 plus years of stifled research.

We're a hub for the groundbreaking quantum industry - with computing capabilities and job creation that even some of the most futuristic movies and novels couldn't imagine.

And, at long last, Colorado is the rightful permanent home of U.S. Space Command, ensuring our national security in the increasingly important space domain. All of this work was at one point seen as too hard, even pie in the sky. But we've proven that we can accomplish anything when we work together.

You know, as I look around this room, I see quite a few of you who have announced campaigns for other offices: Congress, county commissioner, mayor, city council. And I know there's been some buzz about what might be next for me as well. Well, I'm ready to put an end to the speculation - especially with competition gearing up in the next few weeks .Today I'd like to announce that I will be trying out for the Colorado Rockies this spring. Who needs legislation when you can have home runs.

All kidding aside, together, we must ensure that our state remains THE best place to live, raise a family, and launch a business, while strengthening our dynamic economy, creating jobs and making Colorado safer. And we all know we need to make our state more affordable.

Together we can create more housing for all Coloradans and increase access to convenient and low cost transit opportunities, improving our quality of life and making the future of our state even brighter. A better environment with cleaner water and air. A better economy. And better public health and transportation.

The real life situations that families face on rent or a mortgage need no introduction or explanation. They loom large with our friends, our family – it's a matter of statewide concern.

Simply put, we must create more housing in our state that Coloradans at all income levels can rent or buy in the communities where they want to live and near job opportunities. And by reducing housing costs we will also decrease homelessness in our communities. I want to thank the mayors who are on the front lines of this issue and have joined us here today: Denver Mayor Mike Johnston, Aurora Mayor Mike Coffman, Colorado Springs Mayor Yemi Mobolade, and Fort Collins Mayor Jeni Arndt.

I've been spending a lot of time listening to Coloradans from Pueblo to Fort Collins, Aurora to Grand Junction. It's no surprise that the top issue everywhere is housing costs. I hear from parents who fear their children will never own their own home here in Colorado. They aren't alone, 83% of Colorado parents worry their children won't be able to afford to live here.

I also hear from older Coloradans who fear they won't be able to age in the communities they love, or won't be able to downsize because, even though their house has increased in value, high interest rates and property taxes prevent them from affording even a smaller home. That's why we must work during this session to make the Senior Homestead Exemption portable.

I also hear from young parents who want to raise their children in a home of their own, and frontline workers - teachers, firefighters, police officers, healthcare workers, our exceptional state workforce - many of whom can't live even near the community where they work. I hear from business owners who can't recruit the talent they need, and college students who don't believe home ownership will ever be part of their future.

There is a real sense of hopelessness and despair in our state around housing that's on par, in many ways, with how people feel about the divisiveness of our national politics. Since the start of 2022, higher interest rates and home values have driven the typical mortgage payment up by 73%, while income has failed to keep pace. To not do anything would be "highly illogical" as Spock would say.

Last year, we took an important step by banning growth caps that outlawed new housing in our communities thanks to the leadership of Representative Lindstedt and Senator Gonzales. I also signed an Executive Order to remove bureaucratic barriers and cut through red tape, reducing turnaround times for contracts, grants and loans from the Department of Local Affairs' and the Division of Housing to 90 days. The state is putting our skin in the game, and doing our part to solve the housing crisis. And with your partnership, we can build on that progress.

Together we can create a Colorado where homeowners have the property rights and financial tools they need to build an Accessory Dwelling Unit - also known as a granny flat or casita - for an aging parent, child or long term renter, creating more housing supply that's inherently affordable and filling critical gaps in our communities. According to a survey, more than 80% of Coloradans are supportive of allowing ADUs in their communities.

Today we're joined by Yoseph Assefa, a Coloradan who has directly experienced the benefits of ADUs. Yoseph said that the ability to build an ADU on his property with the Denver Housing Authority has been a game changer for his family, increasing property value and creating another housing option for the family of four he is renting it to. Please join me in welcoming Yoseph, who is here with us today with his family.

Together we can help more Coloradans like Yoseph make decisions that work best for themselves and their families, and create more housing for others. I look forward to working with the sponsors who are leading the way in this exciting legislative effort.

This session, I will be supportive of bills that reduce the cost of housing and encourage innovative approaches like new financing strategies, easing parking restrictions, tackling liability costs for multi-family condo construction, reducing the cost of fire insurance - especially in the face of increasing climate-related disasters like the Marshall Fire, which we just observed the second anniversary of - and I will be very skeptical of bills that increase the cost of housing.

As you might be able to tell, housing policy that creates more affordable choices for Coloradans is my Roman Empire. If you don't get that joke, feel free to ask someone from Gen Z.

Ending discriminatory occupancy limits that especially hurt renters is another important way that we can break down harmful barriers to housing and create more equity. I want to thank Representative Mabrey and Representative Rutinel, and Senator Gonzales and Senator Exum for taking on this important housing and civil rights issue.

What it comes down to is creating a Colorado where people from all backgrounds can live in homes they can afford near accessible and reliable transportation options – buses, bikes, and walkable neighborhoods.

Imagine leaving your home and heading to the train stop or bus station just a few blocks away. Maybe you walk or ride your bike. From there you ride to work in the morning in style, and because the schedule is reliable, you know exactly what time you'll catch the train or bus to come home later that day. You don't have to worry about whether you have enough gas, or if the roads will be icy. And if you do choose to drive a car, there is less traffic. On the weekends you use that same transit stop to head downtown to see me play in a World Series Champion Rockies game or for dinner with your friends. And because you live in a home you can afford and are saving money on gas and car repairs, you can put your money toward other priorities. What a wonderful day in Mr. Rogers' neighborhood... and soon more neighborhoods across our state.

This is already happening in communities like Olde Town Arvada and downtown Fort Collins, where thriving downtown centers are built around business, transportation, and housing. But we need more shining examples.

Transit oriented and connected communities can create a better future for our state and drive our prosperity and enjoyment with less traffic, more housing people can afford and better air quality. We want to provide the tools our communities need to make this happen.

This year, I'm excited about a proposal in my budget that will help local governments build housing infrastructure in more transit-oriented neighborhoods by addressing construction hurdles like access to water; aging sewer and stormwater systems; and by increasing opportunities for walking, biking, busing and all forms of transportation. It's a start, but we need a well-rounded approach – and that includes goals for housing that every community can work toward in their own way.

These goals must consider jobs, zoning capacity, transit areas, housing density, and factors like regional equity, infrastructure capacity, and water. We also need transit-oriented housing policy that incentivizes communities to meet meaningful goals, provides accountability, and rewards jurisdictions for going above and beyond.

I'm excited that my budget also expands the State Affordable Housing Tax Credit, providing crucial financial incentives for transit areas that will help increase affordability. I want to thank Representatives Jodeh and Woodrow and Senators Hansen and Winter for their efforts to help more Coloradans live in transit-oriented neighborhoods and achieve this powerful vision of more affordable housing and transit in Colorado. This work is important, but in order to build more housing near reliable transit, we need – you guessed it – transit that actually works.

The distance the average Coloradan drives per year has increased by more than 20% over the past 40 years, and recent data shows that commuters in Denver were stuck in traffic for an average of 54 hours, more than an entire work week. And time isn't the only thing getting wasted. Coloradans are spending too much money on gas, to the tune of roughly $1800 per year per driver, not to mention maintenance and depreciation costs.

Thanks to Senate Bill 260 from 2021, which supercharged transportation funding for the state, and significant Federal funding, roads are finally getting better across the state of Colorado, but we're not done yet. We have the planes, and we have the automobiles, we just need the trains.

For too long passenger rail has been another "moonshot" - out of reach for too many people in our state. Coloradans love the idea, but many people believe it's not something they'll see in our lifetimes. Yes it's big, and yes it's bold, and I'm here to tell you it's within reach.

Agatha Christie wrote, "To travel by train is to see nature and human beings...in fact, to see life." We have a vision for Front Range and Mountain Rail that will create access points across the state that connect people to more housing, more businesses, and more jobs. Getting people places quicker and less expensively. And we're going to get it done.

After years of waiting, the pieces are falling into place. The federal government has approved more than $66 Billion dollars - billion with a B - to create a world-class rail system for the country. So it's no longer a question of if the United States will see a massive expansion of passenger rail, but it's a question of whether Colorado will seize this opportunity and get our fair share of those federal dollars.

With existing tracks, now utilized mostly for commercial rail, we have a unique opportunity to extend daily passenger rail service through the Rocky Mountains. We need to take action to ensure that we get train service from Union Station to west Jefferson County, Winter Park, Steamboat Springs, on to Craig and Hayden, alleviating traffic in our mountain corridors, supporting more housing that's affordable for the local workforce, and helping our coal-dependent communities strengthen and diversify their economies.

Together we must also deliver on the unfulfilled FASTtracks promise of train service from Union Station to Boulder, Longmont and then on to Loveland and Fort Collins. Again, this isn't pie–in-the-sky: we can do this through a joint effort between CDOT, RTD and the Front Range Rail district, and we can start now. The problem of unfinished public transit has gone on far too long, and taxpayers are sick and tired of paying for services they're not getting.

If we move boldly this session to seize these unprecedented federal investments we can lock in transformational passenger rail opportunities in time for our 150th birthday in 2026. The story of our state's founding and early economic success is intertwined with the historic railroad expansion of the 1800s, just as our dreams for the future will be intertwined with the expansion of passenger rail and transit oriented communities.

I am looking forward to partnering with Senate President Fenberg to ensure we take this opportunity to get it done. These efforts must be combined with a more expansive, statewide bus system. Colorado has seen the exciting success of Bustang, Snowstang, and Pegasus, which connected nearly 300,000 Coloradans across the state last year alone. And this is a model that we are continuing to expand. But we must go further to improve convenience for all Coloradans while improving our air quality and reducing traffic.

This isn't something we can do alone. We need reliable regional transit organizations across our state, including in the metro areas. We can have access to better transportation options that meet the needs of all Coloradans, but it requires us to reimagine what that means. And of course that includes RTD. With state investments like free fares for better air, we are seeing some progress, and enhanced ridership. But there's more we need to do. We must reexamine governance and operational efficiencies, expand local partnerships, build on the work of the RTD Accountability Committee, and give RTD and transit agencies across our state the tools, structure, and financial resources to deliver better service to more people, creating a transportation system that meets the needs of Coloradans while supporting more housing near transportation hubs and improving our air quality. I look forward to working with Senator Winter and Representative Lindstedt on legislation to get us. So let's actually deliver on the housing and transit solutions that Coloradans are demanding. As Yoda would say, "Do or Do Not, there is no try."

We must do, and we must SHOW Coloradans what it looks like when there is more housing for every budget and more convenient and lower cost mobility statewide for every resident.

Nothing is more important or fundamental to healthy communities than public safety. I want to take a moment to recognize the men and women in law enforcement and members of the military here with us today. Please rise and let us thank you for your service.

We all deserve to be safe, which is why our goal is to make Colorado one of the ten safest states in the nation by 2027 and I will be supporting legislation to further that goal and will be very skeptical of any legislation that would make us less safe.

Over the last few years we've made important investments in effective, locally driven efforts, including training and support for local law enforcement. This has resulted in scholarships for 135 recruits to attend the POST Academy. 194 law enforcement recruitment events across the state, more than 900 training sessions and more than 400 community events.

Through legislation led by Senator Buckner, former Senator Cooke, Senator Will and Representative Valdez, we funded more than 50 initiatives throughout the state that use evidence-based strategies to make our communities safer including crime prevention and violence interrupter efforts, law enforcement community outreach, crisis intervention, mentoring, co-response models, and recovery housing. Early data shows a downward trend in violent crime, which is why this year we want to continue these investments to create safer communities for everyone.

Last year, with the leadership of Senator Gardner, Senator Bridges, Senator Zenzinger, Representative Bird, Representative Soper, Representative Titone, and Representative Bockenfeld, we took important steps to crack down on auto-theft. When a car is stolen, it impacts employment, health care visits, child care access, and many aspects of daily life. And we invested in technology to locate and return stolen vehicles, and we strengthened the dedicated auto-theft task force. We provided more support for District Attorneys to successfully prosecute the criminals responsible, and we took action to make criminal penalties for auto theft tougher by eliminating the value of a vehicle from consideration.

We're starting to move in the right direction! As of September last year, Colorado had seen a 21% year over year reduction in stolen vehicles, in Denver a 27% reduction - including a major reduction of auto theft at Denver International Airport. Ongoing, data-driven investments in reducing auto theft are absolutely critical if we want to continue fighting all the crimes associated with auto theft.

We are also actively involved in helping victims of crime get back on their feet, providing additional funding to help people get the support and resources they need to recover and heal. I have also called on our Congressional delegation to increase federal funding for victims through a fix to the Victims of Crime Act. I especially appreciate Majority Leader Duran's continued advocacy for this work and look forward to her partnership in the months ahead.

Sadly, in the last few months, there's been a dramatic increase in horrific acts of hate across the world, including here at home. Between October 7 and January 7, the Anti Defamation League recorded a 360 percent increase in antisemitic incidents nationwide. The rise in antisemitism, Islamophobia, and hate in all forms is unacceptable in Colorado.

Colorado is a state that welcomes everyone – no matter your country, your background, where you worship, or who you love. Every single person has the right to feel safe at home, in their communities, and at their places of worship. So, we called on this body to help protect nonprofit organizations and religious institutions, like temples and mosques, that are facing a heightened risk of targeted violence. I want to thank the Joint Budget Committee for taking swift action to provide additional funding for this work last month. And we've already gotten the money out!

Today we are joined by educators from Beth Jacob High School of Denver and the Islamic Center of Fort Collins, which both received funding supported by the State of Colorado and are using it to make security improvements and better protect their communities. Please join me in welcoming them here today. But it goes beyond simple funding. It's about coordinating our efforts to root out hate TOGETHER.

In keeping with our commitment to public safety, Colorado is leading the nation in our efforts to prevent gun violence. Whether it's strengthening our red flag law, establishing waiting periods, requiring safe storage of firearms in homes where kids are present, or banning ghost guns, we are a model for the nation in practical, commonsense solutions to the problem of gun violence, while protecting our cherished Second Amendment rights. I want to thank Senator Tom Sullivan and his fellow legislators for your work to make this possible.

To build on this work, we are proposing additional investments to prevent convicted felons from illegally purchasing firearms. Each year, thousands of people who are prohibited from purchasing a firearm try to do so illegally. As a state, we need to stand firm and crack down on illegal firearm activity. We are working with US Attorney Cole Finegan, Attorney General Phil Weiser and District Attorneys to get it done, while supporting our rural DA offices. And while all of this work supports safe and thriving communities, helping us reach our goal of becoming one of the ten safest states, we also know that another important element of safe Colorado communities is a strong education system.

Education is the universal key, opening doors we never even dreamed existed, transporting us to distant lands, exploring the deepest oceans, and catapulting us to the moon. Education opens our eyes to new ideas. It invites us to dream big dreams, and gives us the tools to turn those dreams into reality.

Education has long been a passion of mine, and I know it's a passion shared by many of you here. With the leadership of Senator Zenzinger, Senator Bridges, Representative Bird, and Representative García, Colorado took urgent action to ensure more than 300,000 Colorado children have healthy meals through Summer EBT. And we are saving families thousands of dollars per year on preschool and kindergarten.

I've spent a lot of time in classrooms around the state, where I've heard from educators and students about what preschool means to them. It's a special thing to see children and their families access the benefits of early childhood education for the first time, and this work has propelled Colorado from 26th to 8th in the country in preschool access in just one year!

I want to thank the voters of our state, as well as Representative Sirota, Senator Buckner, and President Fenberg, for their incredible leadership to help bring preschool to life.

I'm also proud that just a few months ago, Colorado voters passed Proposition II, which dedicates an additional $23.7 Million to preschool, expanding hours for Colorado children and making preschool even better next year. We are so excited that in its very first year nearly 40,000 children are enrolled in preschool, saving each family more than $6,000 per year.

And I'm proud of our Bright Spot Award winners, schools around the state with major increases in student achievement in areas like math and science, and more. The awards elevate these schools as models that others can follow, and give them the support and funding they need to serve even more students. Join me in welcoming the principals and educators from two Bright Spot Award winners who are here today, Paonia Elementary in Delta County - a science Bright Spot award winner, and Minnequa Elementary in Pueblo - a math Bright Spot award winner.

Last year we also passed bipartisan legislation to help more students and educators access the resources they need to improve math achievement, including more hours focused on strengthening their skills after school, thanks to the leadership of Representatives McLachlan and Pugliese and Senators Marchman and Lundeen. Now we need to expand out of school opportunities to boost science achievement too. I look forward to working with the General Assembly to get that done. But, our work is far from finished.

This year, thanks to the leadership of the people in this room, after more than a decade we are finally eliminating the Budget Stabilization Factor. This historic investment means an additional $705 per student on average, or another $15,500 more for a classroom of 22 kids. This is on top of last year's increase of more than $1,000 per student, made possible by this legislature.

It means better teacher pay, expanded learning opportunities for students, professional development for teachers, and better resources in our classrooms. With the budget stabilization buydown, and action from the General Assembly, we will also achieve full mill levy equalization for Charter schools. This has been a long time coming, and we are thrilled to fulfill our commitment to voters and enter a new era of full education funding in Colorado.

And just as we continue investing in students from preschool through high school, we need to continue investing in their success after graduation and powering our economic growth.

Right now there are about two job openings for every unemployed Coloradan. We want every person in Colorado to be able to build a good life and a good career on their own terms, and we are creating many different ways to do that - from dual and concurrent enrollment to low-cost credentialing.

With the leadership of Speaker McCluskie and Representative Pugliese, and Senators Buckner and Senator Will, we've expanded free community and technical college for in-demand careers – which has already served more than 3,500 students - nurses, construction workers, law enforcement. We've also partnered with businesses to develop needed training pathways, and we've created a pilot scholarship to support innovation in education. We are working with higher education institutions to keep tuition low through innovation and greater efficiency. And thanks to Representatives Lukens and Catlin and Senators Roberts and Pelton, we're developing the next generation of farmers and ranchers through the Agricultural Workforce Development Program, to help young people, particularly in rural areas, get real world experience on a working farm or ranch through paid apprenticeships.

But we want to go even further, increasing the number of state government apprenticeships by 50% and supporting the creation of 100 new apprenticeship opportunities in the private sector - both by June 30 of this year. These actions translate to more jobs where Coloradans can earn while they learn, more money saved on education or training, more candidates for available jobs, stronger businesses, and a stronger Colorado economy.

We also want to continue Opportunity Now - which was passed thanks to the work of Speaker McCluskie and Senators Bridges, Senator Rich, and Senator Lundeen - to help "blur the lines" between K-12, higher education, and employers. And grantees are on track to serve 10,000 Coloradans in industries like construction, health care, education, and early childhood. But we're just getting started, and soon, working with Representative Lukens, Representative Soper, and Senator Bridges, we can create more ways for Coloradans to become skilled construction workers, plumbers, pipefitters, electricians and more.

Colorado is becoming the national leader in this work, and by innovating we will continue to save Coloradans money while strengthening our workforce for a prosperous future.

We are also continuing to save people money on healthcare - which is, after housing, often the largest cost that Coloradans face.

Since day one of my Administration, starting with the creation of the Office of Saving People Money on Healthcare, we have been bold in taking on the entrenched special interests and tackling the true cost drivers in healthcare. Our work to save people money on healthcare is led by our incredible and dedicated Lt. Governor Dianne Primavera, please give her a round of applause.

This has led to historic successes including Reinsurance and the Colorado Option, both of which have been cost-saving game-changers for people accessing healthcare in our state. Since its creation, reinsurance has saved thousands of dollars for families all across our state. A family of four in Grand Junction has saved nearly $26,000 since 2020 thanks to reinsurance. In Pueblo, families have saved more than $18,000. That's real money. I want to thank the bipartisan legislators who worked to make these savings possible. Other states - even the federal government - have taken notice, modeling their own efforts after Colorado's.

We've also capped the cost of insulin and, last session, thanks to the leadership of Senator Roberts and Representatives Mabrey and Representative Jodeh, epi-pens as well. But we know our work isn't done.

Prescription drugs still account for a significant portion of healthcare costs in Colorado and across the country. The simple truth is that Coloradans, and people around the country, are being ripped off on the prices of necessary medications.

Spending on prescription drugs in the US is double that of any other nation. Nearly 10% of Coloradans were unable to fill a prescription because of cost in 2021. That's why we continue urging the FDA to approve our application to import lower-cost prescription drugs, and why the Prescription Drug Affordability Board is so vital.

We also are proposing more support for the individuals who provide home-based care, and helping more Coloradans connect to services through improved technology. And especially as we approach what would have been the 51st anniversary of Roe V. Wade, we appreciate the steps the General Assembly has taken to protect personal reproductive health decisions, including abortion, reminding us all that Coloradans across our great state value the freedom to make our own choices.

We also need greater access to behavioral health care, and to build on the success of I Matter, championed by Senator Michaelson Jenet, our budget calls for more support for behavioral health and autism care for youth, expanded care for youth facing acute behavioral health challenges, investment in mental health support for our rural and agricultural communities, and those involved in the criminal justice system.

At the heart of these conversations are the Coloradans we are expanding access for and helping save money, which is why I made this work a top priority from the very start. It was important then, and it's even more important now, so we must innovate and look for more ways to lower costs and save people money on healthcare.

Part of a healthy life means a healthy environment, and here in Colorado we are an example to the nation on how to protect the natural world around us and combat the impact of climate change.

We are already on track to exceed our goal of 80% clean electricity by 2030 - just six years from now. We have one of the most ambitious strategies in the country to reduce local air pollution from the oil, gas, and transportation industries, including achieving electric vehicle sales that are six times higher than when I took office. And we look forward to working with the legislature to advance my budget request to further improve air quality, utilizing recommendations from Environmental Justice advocates.

My administration has delivered on more than 95% of the actions outlined in our first Greenhouse Gas Pollution Reduction roadmap, and will soon be releasing our second Roadmap with more than 40 new actions. We now have federal funding to achieve these goals even faster thanks to the work of the United States Congress and President Biden.

Now we need to cut red tape that is holding back local investments and unprecedented federal resources in renewable and clean energy, including building transmission lines more quickly, renewable energy development, and storing carbon dioxide pollution underground. We will be supporting legislation, led by President Fenberg and Senator Hansen, to expedite these critical projects.

Hand in hand with our climate work is our leadership on conserving our wildlife and wild places. We will continue to take bold action to protect our cherished public lands and Colorado is finally factoring in variables that have long been neglected, like tracking the rate of year-to-year biodiversity loss, improving soil health, and focusing on ecosystem resiliency in the face of an ever-changing climate.

We are strengthening native biodiversity and restoring balance to our ecosystems by bringing back native species like the Canada Lynx, the Black-Footed Ferret, and as of mid-December, we successfully met the voter mandated deadline for reintroduction of Gray Wolves.

We also need to protect that progress by continuing to invest in non-lethal conflict minimization to help our farmers and ranchers thrive. Colorado Parks and Wildlife, the Department of Natural Resources, and the Department of Agriculture play pivotal roles and we need your help to continue supporting their conflict minimization work.

We have also invested nearly $300 Million into our precious water resources and implementation of the visionary Colorado Water Plan, and remain committed to aggressively defending Colorado's interests and rights in the Colorado River negotiations.

All of this work - from protecting our environment and wildlife, to housing and transit, education and workforce, to public safety - means a stronger and better Colorado where everyone can get ahead. And in addition to these efforts, we must also continue working to strengthen Colorado's economy and help people hold onto more of their hard-earned money.

Thanks to Colorado's amazing economic success, we are well on our way towards another year of record TABOR surplus, projected to be between $1.6 and $1.8 billion. A healthy TABOR surplus is the sign of a strong economy, but also a signal that the tax rate is too high. Tax relief is the best mechanism to relieve cost of living pressures and spur economic growth for everyone in our state.

One of the secrets to Colorado's success was that whenever there was a TABOR Surplus, after paying for the Senior Homestead property tax exemption, there was an automatic income tax cut the following year. This happened during the first two years of my administration. Since we have now permanently reduced the rate, this mechanism is no longer active.

I know some Democrats in the past have been skeptical of reducing our income tax rate, but cutting the income tax rate is the most effective way to further our economic growth. In my 2020 state of the state address I echoed President Kennedy and President Obama's calls for cutting the income tax rate, and the people of our state delivered twice. President Kennedy didn't just launch the moonshot, he delivered one of the largest income tax cuts in history, saying that income taxes, "exerts too heavy a drag on growth [and] reduces the financial incentives for personal effort, investment, and risk-taking." Those cuts helped spur America's astronomic economic growth.

Of course, cutting the income tax rate isn't a panacea, but to spur continued economic growth, it should be a significant part of progressive reforms to TABOR refunds.

Likewise, we know that property taxes are a part of what's driving up the cost of living in Colorado. So let me take a moment to commend the General Assembly for your hard work during the special session in November to reduce property tax rates. Thanks to your efforts, we are saving Coloradans money in the short term, and as we work together toward a long term replacement to the Gallagher Amendment to keep property taxes low, I urge you to do as much as you can to reduce property taxes.

Republicans, who have been rightly supportive of giving an income tax cut through TABOR rebates, have at times supported using TABOR surplus for property tax relief but unfortunately vocally opposed it during the special session. I believe this is shortsighted. We should use every tool we have to reduce property taxes without harming local services like fire protection and schools. This work means more money in Coloradans' pockets, a stronger economy, and a more affordable Colorado.

As demonstrated by our healthy surplus in Colorado, taxes are simply too high: income taxes, property taxes, and the state sales tax. We ignore that signal at our own peril and I challenge Democrats and Republicans to work together to improve our economic growth and success by not taking taxes we can't keep from people and instead working on a bold, balanced, progressive package, including cutting the income tax rate.

While we might not agree on everything, I want to talk about something we can all agree on: Coloradans' TABOR refunds must remain free of federal taxes as they have for the last 30 years. We are working closely with the IRS and are steadfast in our commitment to help Coloradans keep more of their hard-earned money.

When I first ran for Governor, I envisioned a Colorado for All - one where everyone can thrive. And we are guided by that same mission today. No matter who you love, your faith, where you came from, what you look like, regardless of your age or ability status, how long you've been here - whether you've just arrived or if you've been here for generations - you belong.

And as we get closer to Colorado's sesquicentennial - or 150th birthday - I know we all want to help everyone get ahead in our great state. That means applying Colorado for All to every facet of our lives: healthcare, housing and transportation, education, careers, safety and more.

It also means continuing to listen to one another and having the tough conversations around the issues that matter most. This is what the Disagree Better initiative is all about. As Vice Chair of the National Governors Association, I've worked alongside the Chair, Utah Governor Spencer Cox on this effort. It's not about agreeing on every issue, for instance Governor Cox and I can't agree on which state has better skiing, even though it's obviously Colorado, but it's about how we can disagree better.

This is something Colorado is particularly good at, but these skills are often challenged both between and within our own parties, especially as we see and feel the vitriol of national politics. Too often it can feel like our disagreements are what define us, and that the gap is too big to close. As Arthur C. Brooks has written, "almost no one is ever insulted into agreement." As highlighted by our leaders yesterday in their opening day remarks, when we lose that ability to listen to one another we see the cracks in our democracy widen, and we let opportunities pass us by.

Let me be clear: this isn't just some feel good initiative or hollow exercise. Our very democracy depends on people being able to disagree with one another – passionately, emphatically – and still being able to work together with mutual respect and dignity. When that is no longer possible, when policy arguments become personal attacks, and when people start to paint the other side not as colleagues who disagree, but as enemies, we are entering dangerous territory.

Here in this building we've seen how listening to one another and having thoughtful conversations can impact our relationships and the policies we create for our state. We share the same goals for a stronger Colorado, so let's use these next four months to really work together, to disagree better, to show the nation how it's done. The Colorado way. This work isn't easy. If it were, it would've been done already. But here in Colorado, we dream, we dare and we do.

This year we choose once again to tackle what is hard–what truly challenges us – not because it's easy, but because it's hard. So as we prepare for the year ahead, know that the State of our State is strong. When we work together, and disagree better, nothing is beyond our reach.

Thank you. God bless you all, God bless Colorado, God bless the United States of America.

REPORT(S) OF COMMITTEE(S) OF REFERENCE

BUSINESS AFFAIRS AND LABOR

After consideration on the merits, the Committee recommends the following:

HB24-1008 be amended as follows, and as so amended, be referred to the Committee on Appropriations with favorable recommendation:

Amend printed bill, page 2, after line 1 insert:

"SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(a) Wage theft, the failure to pay an employee the employee's legally earned wages, is the largest form of theft in the United States, and the Colorado Fiscal Institute estimates that wage theft transfers nearly $728 million dollars to employers from the pockets of approximately 438,260 Colorado workers each year. Minor workers, women, and workers of color are disproportionately impacted by wage theft.

(b) Wage theft not only affects Coloradans' ability to pay rent and put food on the table, but it also denies our state and local governments between $25 million and $42 million in revenue each year;

(c) To combat wage theft, the state must keep up with changes in the marketplace. One of the most significant changes involves the increasing use of labor market intermediaries to directly employ workers. Too often, this fissuring of the labor market is used to outsource an employer's responsibility to workers required by labor and employment laws.

(d) Construction is an industry with extraordinary labor market fissuring, with layers upon layers of contractors, subcontractors, labor brokers, staffing agencies, etc. This incentivizes wage theft by favoring inexpensive subcontractors. It also creates barriers to wage recovery because undercapitalized subcontractors can't or won't pay wages.

(e) Due in part to these practices, workers in the construction industry are disproportionately likely to experience wage theft. Federal Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division data show that Colorado's construction industry has double the number of wage theft violations that it should have in proportion to the number of workers in the industry. This is consistent with Colorado Department of Labor and Employment data showing that while only 7% of Colorado workers are in construction, construction workers make up 17% of administrative wage theft complaints that are found valid after a full agency investigation.

(f) Federal data also show that in fiscal years 2022 and 2023, the construction industry saw the highest dollar amount of wage theft of any industry, totaling over $35 million in federal fiscal year 2023 alone. In addition, the construction industry has among the highest number of individual workers who are victims of wage theft.

(g) To effectively combat wage theft in the construction industry, the state needs a tailored solution to ensure not only that workers have substantive legal protection against wage theft, but also that the state has the right alignment of business incentives to prevent wage theft before it happens and the right access to capital to ensure that workers can recover stolen wages;

(h) Creating general contractor accountability for wage theft committed on their projects by a subcontractor at any tier provides such a tailored solution. Such accountability will enlist general contractors in the fight against wage theft, incentivize engagement with law-abiding subcontractors who pay their workers correctly, and encourage general contractors to root out bad actors who underbid for contracts knowing they will make up the difference by denying their workers the wages they earned.

(i) While creating general contractor liability for wage claims, this act will also ensure that general contractors can efficiently seek reimbursement from subcontractor employers for any amounts paid out for wage claims owed to the subcontractors' employees. In this way, the act will ensure that workers get paid, but will not leave general contractors on the hook for a subcontractor's wage debts.

(j) This act narrowly focuses on general contractor liability for wage debts owed to the workers on their projects who were engaged by the general contractor's subcontractors at any tier. Such liability does not extend to wage debts owed to the workers of general contractor suppliers or other business partners. Also, liability for debts owed based on a wage claim or investigation does not include liability for a subcontractor's retaliatory acts.

(k) This act does not alter the division of labor standards and statistics' existing obligation to treat a notice of citation or a notice of assessment issued to an employer for a violation of wage law as a public record pursuant to section 8-1-115 (1)(b), Colorado Revised Statutes, and does not require the additional publication of a notice of citation or a notice of assessment issued to a general contractor that is not the employer of an employee who is the victim of wage theft;

(l) With this act, Colorado hopes not only to ensure that workers get paid their legally earned wages, but also to partner with the many general contractors who are abiding by the law and want to ensure all workers on their job sites are paid in full and on time; and

(m) Therefore, the general assembly declares that wage theft is an unacceptable business practice, and the state should use or adopt all available tools to prevent wage theft before it happens and give workers the means to recover stolen wages.".

TRANSPORTATION, HOUSING AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT

After consideration on the merits, the Committee recommends the following:

HB24-1055 be amended as follows, and as so amended, be referred to the Committee on Appropriations with favorable recommendation:

Amend printed bill, strike everything below the enacting clause and substitute:

"SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(a) Cars remain a leading cause of death for children in Colorado; from 2015 to 2019, 48 children under age eight were killed in passenger vehicle crashes. The Colorado department of transportation estimates that 59% to nearly 84% of children are improperly restrained while riding in a vehicle.

(b) According to data from the federal centers for disease control and prevention, American Indian and Alaska Native children and Black children are more likely to be killed in a crash than white children. Children in rural areas are also typically at higher risk, as studies indicate that children in rural areas are more likely to be incorrectly restrained than children in urban areas.

(c) In 2018, the American Academy of Pediatrics updated its child passenger safety best practice recommendations to optimize safety in passenger vehicles for children from birth through adolescence. Colorado's child passenger safety laws related to car seats, booster seats, and seat belt requirements have not been updated in over a decade and have fallen behind in ensuring children in Colorado are as safe as possible if or when a motor vehicle crash occurs.

(d) It is critical for families to have timely access to replacement car seats following an accident and when children have medically complex needs requiring specialized adaptive car seats; and

(e) Twenty-three states, the District of Columbia, and the United States Virgin Islands require children younger than 2 years old to be in a rear-facing child safety seat. Research shows that children aged 0 to 4 years are less likely to be injured in a motor vehicle crash if they are restrained in a rear-facing car seat, as opposed to a forward-facing car seat.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly further declares that it is in the best interest of the state of Colorado to modernize child passenger safety laws and provide education and child restraint system distribution programs to parents and caregivers to ensure children in Colorado are as safe as possible when traveling in a motor vehicle.

SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, add part 28 to article 33.5 of title 24 as follows:

PART 28

(b) "OUT-OF-POCKET EXPENSES" DOES NOT INCLUDE PREMIUM PAYMENTS MADE FOR A HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN.

(2) FOR INDIVIDUAL HEALTH BENEFIT PLANS, IF A COVERED PERSON HAS PAID ANY OUT-OF-POCKET EXPENSES FOR SERVICES COVERED BY A HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN IN A GIVEN PLAN YEAR, AND THE CARRIER THAT PROVIDES THE HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN TO THE COVERED PERSON EXITS THE HEALTH INSURANCE MARKET AND CAN NO LONGER PROVIDE HEALTH INSURANCE BENEFITS TO THAT PERSON DURING THE SAME PLAN YEAR, A CARRIER OF A NEW HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN THAT COVERS THE PERSON DURING THE SAME PLAN YEAR SHALL CREDIT ALL OF THE OUT-OF-POCKET EXPENSES PAID BY THE COVERED PERSON TO THE NEW HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN.

THE PROTOCOLS MUST BE BASED ON THE OUT-OF-POCKET MAXIMUM AMOUNTS, AS DESCRIBED IN SECTION 10-16-161, FROM THE DIVISION. THE COMMISSIONER SHALL CONSULT WITH THE EXCHANGE TO DEVELOP THE PROTOCOLS.

(5) THE NEW HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN IS REQUIRED ONLY TO CREDIT OUT-OF-POCKET EXPENSES TOWARD THE DEDUCTIBLE AND THE OUT-OF-POCKET MAXIMUM, WHICH ARE REPORTED BY THE PREVIOUS HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN, THE HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN'S CONSERVATORSHIP, OR THE DIVISION IN A TIME AND MANNER DETERMINED BY THE COMMISSIONER.

(8) SUBJECT TO APPROVAL BY THE COMMISSIONER, A CARRIER IS NOT REQUIRED TO CREDIT ALL OF THE OUT-OF-POCKET EXPENSES PAID BY THE COVERED PERSON TO THE NEW HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN IN ACCORDANCE WITH SUBSECTION (2) OF THIS SECTION IF DOING SO WOULD CAUSE THE CARRIER TO BECOME INSOLVENT.

"SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and determines that:

(a) The department of regulatory agencies (department) has considered the need for regulating community association managers and management companies (CAMs) through two sunrise reviews and one sunset review and has concluded that community association management companies should be regulated by the state to protect the public;

(b) In response to the department's 2012 sunrise report, the general assembly enacted House Bill 13-1277, which established a regulatory scheme that required all CAMs to obtain a license through the division of real estate;

(c) In its 2017 sunset review, the department recommended continuing the regulation in order to gather additional, relevant information, but proposed legislation to continue the regulatory program failed in 2018 and 2019, and the regulation of CAMs ceased in 2019; and

(d) In 2021, the department conducted another sunrise review and concluded that "minimal regulatory programs should be enacted to ensure that CAMs who commit acts such as theft are held accountable through regulatory oversight ..." and recommended, in part, that the state regulate community association management companies.

(2) To address these concerns, the general assembly therefore declares that the regulation of community association management companies:

(a) Is important to protect the public and, in particular, homeowners from financial harm and ensure that business entities engaged in the practice of community association management have knowledge of applicable laws and are able to perform community association management services in a manner that ensures homeowners are not financially harmed; and

(b) Must be accomplished in a manner that is least restrictive to community association management companies, is efficient, and is cost-effective in order to avoid significant impacts and minimize burdens on both businesses and homeowners.

REPORT(S) OF COMMITTEE(S) OF REFERENCE

BUSINESS AFFAIRS AND LABOR

After consideration on the merits, the Committee recommends the following:

HB24-1004 be amended as follows, and as so amended, be referred to the Committee on Appropriations with favorable recommendation:

Amend printed bill, strike everything below the enacting clause and substitute:

"SECTION 1. In Colorado Revised Statutes, add 12-20-206 as follows:

12-20-206. Regulators - consideration of criminal records - petition process - denials - definition. (1) AS USED IN THIS SECTION, "DIRECTLY RELATED TO" MEANS THAT THE CRIMINAL OFFENSE FOR WHICH THE APPLICANT HAS BEEN CONVICTED HAS A SPECIFIC ELEMENT THAT IS STILL RELEVANT AT THE TIME OF THE INDIVIDUAL'S APPLICATION FOR A REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSE, WHICH WOULD MAKE THE INDIVIDUAL UNABLE TO SUCCESSFULLY PRACTICE THE PROFESSION OR OCCUPATION IN WHICH THE INDIVIDUAL HAS APPLIED OR PETITIONED FOR DETERMINATION OF QUALIFICATION.

(2) IF AN APPLICANT HAS A VALID CONVICTION FOR A CRIME, THE REGULATOR MAY ONLY CONSIDER THE APPLICANT'S CONVICTION FOR A THREE-YEAR PERIOD BEGINNING ON THE DATE OF CONVICTION OR THE END OF INCARCERATION, WHICHEVER DATE IS LATER, IF THE APPLICANT HAS NOT BEEN CONVICTED OF ANY OTHER CRIMINAL OFFENSE DURING THE THREE-YEAR PERIOD. AFTER THE THREE-YEAR PERIOD, THE REGULATOR SHALL ONLY CONSIDER THE INDIVIDUAL'S APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE IN THE SAME MANNER AS AN APPLICANT WHO DOES NOT POSSESS A PRIOR CRIMINAL RECORD; EXCEPT THAT THE REGULATOR MAY CONSIDER A CONVICTION FOR A CRIME THAT IS DIRECTLY RELATED TO THE PROFESSION OR OCCUPATION FOR WHICH THE INDIVIDUAL HAS APPLIED FOR REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE.

(3) (a) IF A REGULATOR IS CONSIDERING AN APPLICANT'S CRIMINAL RECORD DURING THE APPLICATION PROCESS FOR REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE, A REGULATOR MAY ONLY DENY OR REFUSE TO RENEW THE REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSE IF THE REGULATOR DETERMINES THAT THE APPLICANT HAS NOT BEEN REHABILITATED AND IS UNABLE TO PERFORM THE DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE PROFESSION OR OCCUPATION.

(b) AN APPLICANT'S CONVICTION FOR A CRIME DOES NOT, IN AND OF ITSELF, DISQUALIFY THE APPLICANT FROM BEING ISSUED A REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSE.

(4) (a) AN INDIVIDUAL WHOSE CONVICTION MAY AFFECT THE INDIVIDUAL'S APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE MAY PETITION AT ANY TIME, INCLUDING WHILE INCARCERATED OR BEFORE OBTAINING ANY REQUIRED PERSONAL QUALIFICATIONS, FOR A DECISION FROM A REGULATOR AS TO WHETHER A REGULATOR MAY CONSIDER THE INDIVIDUAL'S CRIMINAL RECORD WHEN REVIEWING THE INDIVIDUAL'S APPLICATION FOR A REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSE.

(b) AN INDIVIDUAL WHO PETITIONS A REGULATOR SHALL INCLUDE IN THE PETITION:

(I) THE INDIVIDUAL'S CRIMINAL RECORD OR AUTHORIZATION FOR THE REGULATOR TO OBTAIN THE INDIVIDUAL'S CRIMINAL RECORD; AND

(II) ANY ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT THE INDIVIDUAL'S CURRENT CIRCUMSTANCES, INCLUDING THE TIME SINCE THE CRIMINAL OFFENSE WAS COMMITTED AND THE SENTENCE WAS COMPLETED, THE PAYMENT OF ANY COURT-ORDERED RESTITUTION, EVIDENCE OF REHABILITATION, TESTIMONIALS, EMPLOYMENT HISTORY, AND EMPLOYMENT ASPIRATIONS.

(c) IF A REGULATOR DETERMINES THAT A PETITIONER'S CONVICTION WILL LIKELY BE CONSIDERED, THE REGULATOR SHALL ADVISE THE PETITIONER OF ANY ACTIONS THE PETITIONER MAY TAKE TO REMEDY THE DISQUALIFICATION. IF REMEDIAL ACTION IS ADVISED BY THE REGULATOR, THE PETITIONER MAY SUBMIT A REVISED PETITION ON OR BEFORE A DATE SET BY THE REGULATOR FOR COMPLETION OF THE REMEDIAL ACTIONS.

(d) A REGULATOR WHO MAKES AN INITIAL DETERMINATION PURSUANT TO THIS SUBSECTION (4) MAY REQUIRE A NEW DETERMINATION AT THE TIME AN INDIVIDUAL FORMALLY APPLIES FOR REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE.

(5) IN ORDER TO DENY AN APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE PURSUANT TO THIS SECTION, A REGULATOR BEARS THE BURDEN OF PROOF TO SHOW BY CLEAR AND CONVINCING EVIDENCE THAT THE DENIAL DIRECTLY CONNECTS INFORMATION IN AN APPLICANT'S CRIMINAL RECORD TO POTENTIAL PERFORMANCE IN THE PARTICULAR OCCUPATION OR PROFESSION FOR WHICH THE APPLICANT IS APPLYING FOR REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE.

(6) THIS SECTION DOES NOT:

(a) NEGATE ANY PROVISION FOR REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE IN THIS TITLE 12 THAT REQUIRES AN APPLICANT TO SUBMIT INFORMATION REGARDING THE APPLICANT'S CRIMINAL HISTORY TO A REGULATOR WITH AN APPLICATION;

(b) NEGATE ANY OTHER REASON SPECIFIED IN THIS TITLE 12 FOR WHICH A REGULATOR MAY DENY AN APPLICANT REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE FOR A PROFESSION OR AN OCCUPATION;

(c) NEGATE ANY REQUIREMENT UNDER FEDERAL LAW THAT REQUIRES AN INDIVIDUAL TO OBTAIN OR MAINTAIN A REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSURE;

(d) NEGATE THE LIST OF DETERMINING FACTORS THAT SHALL NOT BE CONSIDERED REGARDING AN APPLICANT'S CRIMINAL RECORD IN SECTION 24-5-101 (2)(b); OR

(e) CREATE LIABILITY FOR AN EMPLOYER THAT FAILS TO HIRE AN INDIVIDUAL WHO HAS A REGISTRATION, CERTIFICATION, OR LICENSE PURSUANT TO THIS TITLE 12.

REPORT(S) OF COMMITTEE(S) OF REFERENCE

AGRICULTURE, WATER, AND NATURAL RESOURCES

After consideration on the merits, the Committee recommends the following:

HB24-1117 be amended as follows, and as so amended, be referred to the Committee on Appropriations with favorable recommendation:

Amend printed bill, page 2, after line 1 insert:

"SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(a) Colorado's policy is to protect and enhance biodiversity because biodiversity is necessary for ecosystem health; supports agricultural productivity by aiding pollination, pest control, and soil fertility; and increases ecosystem resilience to drought and extreme weather events;

(b) Healthy ecosystems underpin delivery of water supplies and water quality and guard against water-related hazards and disasters;

(c) Studies show that 34% of plant species and 40% of animal species may become extinct and 41% of ecosystems may collapse;

(d) Invertebrates provide vital ecosystem services, including pollination, pest control, nutrient cycling, and sustenance for wildlife;

(e) Without conservation, invertebrates will continue to decline, likely having profound effects on the environment, humans, and wildlife;

(f) Native rare plants are essential to both wildlife and humans, and they contribute to clean air and water, carbon sequestration, food sources, healthy ecosystems, and wildlife habitat;

(g) The state wildlife action plan identifies 75 invertebrates and 117 rare plants as species of greatest conservation need, over half of which are endemic to Colorado;

(h) Information on habitats, threats, and conservation needs is sorely lacking for Colorado's invertebrate and native rare plant species;

(i) With a few exceptions, Colorado parks and wildlife does not have statutory authority over invertebrate species, nor does any state agency have oversight of native rare plants;

(j) Lack of data limits Colorado's ability to assess the status of, threats to, and conservation needs of invertebrates and rare plants;

(k) Creating programs designed to support conservation of native rare plants and invertebrates can lessen the likelihood that the species will be added to federal threatened or endangered lists;

(l) Addressing data gaps and creating voluntary conservation programs for native rare plants and invertebrates can affect federal listing decisions, which undercut private land management with regulations; and

(m) Authorizing surveys and investigations on these species allows the state to fill data gaps; it does not grant the state the authority to regulate the take of these species without further legislation.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly determines that the parks and wildlife division should study and determine the conservation needs of native rare plants and invertebrates and implement voluntary programs to conserve and protect them.".

Renumber succeeding sections accordingly.

(b) IT IS THE POLICY OF THIS STATE TO:

(I) PROTECT AND ENHANCE BIODIVERSITY AND RESILIENT ECOSYSTEMS IN THE FACE OF POPULATION GROWTH, DEVELOPMENT, AND CLIMATE CHANGE;

(II) PROTECT AND CONSERVE RARE PLANTS AND INVERTEBRATES AS MEMBERS OF ECOSYSTEMS;

(III) SUPPORT THE WILDLIFE THAT DEPENDS ON RARE PLANTS AND INVERTEBRATES; AND

(IV) PREVENT THE DECLINE OF RARE PLANTS AND INVERTEBRATES BEFORE THEIR CONTINUED EXISTENCE IN THE STATE IS IMPERILLED;

(c) THE DIVISION SHOULD STUDY AND DETERMINE THE CONSERVATION NEEDS OF RARE PLANTS AND INVERTEBRATES FOUND IN THIS STATE AND IMPLEMENT VOLUNTARY PROGRAMS TO PROTECT THESE SPECIES.".

(a) Workplace violence in health-care settings has emerged as a serious occupational and public health concern in Colorado and across the country;

(b) Health-care workers are five times more likely to experience violence in the workplace compared to other workers;

(c) Workplace violence presents in various forms, with:

(I) Sixty percent of incidents involving verbal aggression;

(II) Thirty-six percent of incidents involving threats;

(III) Twenty-nine percent of incidents involving physical violence; and

(IV) Four percent of incidents involving the use of an object or weapon;

(d) There is no single solution to solving workplace violence in health-care settings, and evidence shows that a holistic approach to workplace violence is most effective and has proven to decrease violence in health-care settings;

(e) Recommendations from organizations such as the Joint Commission, which align with the evidence that several approaches to combating workplace violence are needed, include:

(I) Making significant investment in frontline staff in the assessment, planning, and implementation of a workplace violence program;

(II) Training staff on how to prevent workplace violence;

(III) Assessing and implementing security protections within health-care units; and

(IV) Developing and implementing standardized workplace violence prevention policies and reporting systems;

(f) Involving frontline staff in assessing and planning workplace violence interventions is paramount to the effectiveness of the intervention;

(g) The Joint Commission stresses that workplace violence prevention training and interventions must go beyond the individual, and the organization's recommendations align with evidence showing that health-care organizations need to change their administrative policies and implement changes within the health-care unit environment to combat workplace violence; and

(h) Implementing a holistic approach to workplace violence prevention, mitigation, response, and intervention that focuses on involving frontline workers is paramount to reducing incidents of workplace violence in health-care settings.

JUDICIARY

After consideration on the merits, the Committee recommends the following:

HB24-1072 be amended as follows, and as so amended, be referred to the Committee of the Whole with favorable recommendation:

Amend printed bill, page 2, after line 1 insert:

"SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds that:

(a) Sexual violence is a significant public safety and health concern in Colorado;

(b) Sexual violence has a serious long-term impact on mental and physical health, resulting in trillions of dollars in costs in the United States;

(c) According to the department of public health and environment, one in three Coloradans has experienced sexual violence and eighty percent of those experiences occur prior to the victim turning twenty-five. Furthermore, the likelihood of experiencing sexual violence increases if the person experienced sexual violence prior to the victim turning eighteen.

(d) According to the centers for disease control and prevention in the federal department of health and human services, more than one-third of sexual assaults are committed by an intimate partner, leading to a significant crossover of intimate partner violence and sexual violence;

(e) Sexual crimes are the most unreported crimes due to many factors, including fear of retaliation, feelings of shame, self-blame, fear of blame, fear of disbelief, fear of the criminal justice process, and complex trauma caused by experiencing sexual violence committed by an intimate partner or friend;

(f) The successful prosecution of sexual offenders is abysmally low due to societal myths about sexual crimes resulting in victim blaming, as well as the high rate of victims opting not to participate in the criminal justice system because of a lack of protection from harassment and humiliation;

(g) The purpose of section 18-3-407, Colorado Revised Statutes, amended in this act and commonly referred to as the "rape shield statute", is to protect victims and witnesses of sexual crimes from humiliation caused by public disclosure of their intimate lives absent a preliminary showing that evidence will be relevant and that the probative value of the evidence is not substantially outweighed by the presumed prejudicial impact of the evidence on the victim's or witness's privacy and to confuse the issues in the case; and

(h) Victims and witnesses of sexual crimes should not be subjected to psychological or emotional abuse in the courtroom as a price for their cooperation in the prosecution, and the defendant must be provided due process in defending against the allegations. Unless victims and witnesses are protected from unnecessary and humiliating inquiries into their sexual history, they will continue to remain silent regarding sexual abuse.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly declares it necessary to protect victims and witnesses from irrelevant, humiliating, and degrading interrogation while simultaneously protecting an accused person's right to present a defense. Accordingly, section 18-3-407, Colorado Revised Statutes, must be strengthened and clarified to address barriers that victims face in reporting and participating in the criminal justice process.".

Renumber succeeding sections accordingly.

JUDICIARY

After consideration on the merits, the Committee recommends the following:

HB24-1286 be amended as follows, and as so amended, be referred to the Committee on Finance with favorable recommendation:

Amend printed bill, strike everything below the enacting clause and substitute:

"SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds that:

(a) Access to justice is a basic principle of the rule of law, and it ensures that all persons, institutions, and entities, public and private, including the state, are held accountable to laws that are publicly promulgated, equally enforced, and independently adjudicated;

(b) In the absence of access to justice, people are unable to have their voices heard, exercise their rights, challenge discrimination, or hold decision-makers accountable;

(c) Providing civil legal aid to people in poverty is vital to Colorado in supporting justice for victims of intimate partner violence, ensuring veterans receive their well-earned benefits, protecting against elder abuse, fighting human trafficking, protecting access to necessities such as food and shelter, and other areas;

(d) Without access to civil legal representation, many laws and protections remain unenforceable for low-income Coloradans;

(e) State-funded legal aid in certain civil matters reinforces the importance of the right to counsel to ensure a fair trial;

(f) Equal access to justice would have little effective meaning if an individual could not afford that right on the basis of income;

(g) In order to meet the needs of our most vulnerable community members, it is necessary, appropriate, equitable, and in the best interest of all Coloradans to create a special purpose authority to allow low-income Coloradans access to the court system by imposing a fee on a party's first court filing;

(h) The fee imposed is for the specific purpose of serving users of Colorado courts, who will pay the fee on all initial pleadings and answers because the fee:

(I) Will serve all qualified court users by increasing the efficiency of courts for all court users by reducing slowdowns caused by self-represented parties because providing guidance and legal assistance to unrepresented litigants increases efficiency in courts;

(II) Will increase the provision of justice in our courts for all court users, regardless of income, which is an interest shared among all court users;

(III) Is collected at a rate reasonably calculated based on the overall costs of the services provided by the authority; and

(IV) Is not a tax;

(i) Furthering access to Colorado's civil courts is a pillar of our democratic legal systems; and

(j) The state of Colorado must endeavor to systematically support the delivery of equal access to legal aid services to all qualified Coloradans.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly declares that the lack of access to civil legal justice is a problem that has serious social, legal, economic, and political consequences, and the general assembly enacts this legislation to fund equal access to justice and reaffirm the commitment to equitable access to the civil legal process.

SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, add part 2 to article 5.7 of title 13 as follows:

PART 2

EQUAL JUSTICE FUND AUTHORITY

13-5.7-201. Definitions. AS USED IN THIS PART 2, UNLESS THE CONTEXT OTHERWISE REQUIRES:

(a) Indigent defendants deserve legal representation commensurate with the legal representation that nonindigent defendants receive;

(b) Public defenders have a constitutional, statutory, and ethical duty to provide competent, diligent, and effective representation and legal services to indigent defendants. However, excessive workloads may prevent public defenders from fulfilling these obligations.

(c) Validated and weighted case measurements are an important tool for public defender agencies, policymakers, and other stakeholders to have to evaluate public defender workloads within their communities.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly declares that workload standards are critical to the office of the state public defender's ability to obtain the necessary resources to provide competent, diligent, and effective legal counsel guaranteed by the federal and state constitutions, the Colorado Rules of Professional Conduct, and the office of the state public defender's mandate to provide legal services that are commensurate with those available to nonindigent individuals.

SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, add 21-1-108 as follows:

(a) ASSIST THE COLORADO STATE PUBLIC DEFENDER AND ANY EMPLOYEES OF THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PUBLIC DEFENDER WITH SUPERVISORY AUTHORITY IN MONITORING AND MANAGING ATTORNEYS EMPLOYED BY THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PUBLIC DEFENDER WHO REGULARLY ENGAGE IN THE REPRESENTATION OF CLIENTS AND OTHER OFFICE OF THE STATE PUBLIC DEFENDER STAFF WORKLOADS WITHIN EACH REGIONAL OFFICE TO ENSURE THAT THE WORKLOADS ARE NOT EXCESSIVE; AND

"SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(a) According to the United States environmental protection agency:

(I) Aircraft that use leaded aviation gasoline are a leading source of lead emissions in our air;

(II) Excessive exposure to lead has many harmful health effects, which can include adverse effects on the nervous system, kidney function, the immune system, reproductive and developmental systems, the cardiovascular system, and the oxygen carrying capacity of blood;

(III) Exposure to lead can cause irreversible and life-long harmful health effects in children and pregnant individuals; and

(IV) Elevated lead in the environment can result in decreased growth and reproduction in plants and animals and negative neurological effects in vertebrates;

(b) According to the United States centers for disease control and prevention, no level of lead exposure is safe for children, and even low levels of lead in their blood are associated with developmental delays, learning difficulties, and behavioral issues;

(c) Peer-reviewed research indicates that children who live near airports with significant general aviation activity have elevated levels of lead in their blood and that blood lead levels in children under five increase as levels of atmospheric lead increase;

(d) Persistent and loud noise also has harmful health effects, especially for children; and

(e) It is therefore necessary, appropriate, and in the best interest of all Coloradans for the state to:

(I) Provide financial incentives in the form of an income tax credit and a grant program to reduce the use of leaded aviation gasoline; and

(II) Create standards for an airport with significant general aviation activity in an urban or suburban area to follow to notify the surrounding community of its voluntary plans and procedures to reduce the impacts of noise and lead on the community.

SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, add 39-22-560 as follows:

(1) (a) IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION 39-21-304 (1), WHICH REQUIRES EACH BILL THAT CREATES A NEW TAX EXPENDITURE TO INCLUDE A TAX PREFERENCE PERFORMANCE STATEMENT AS PART OF A STATUTORY LEGISLATIVE DECLARATION, THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY FINDS AND DECLARES THAT THE PURPOSE OF THE TAX CREDIT PROVIDED IN THIS SECTION IS TO INDUCE CERTAIN DESIGNATED BEHAVIOR BY TAXPAYERS, SPECIFICALLY THE

MODIFICATION OF AIRCRAFT THAT ARE POWERED BY LEADED AVIATION GASOLINE SO THAT SUCH AIRCRAFT CAN BE CERTIFIED TO BE POWERED BY UNLEADED AVIATION GASOLINE AND NO LONGER USE LEADED AVIATION GASOLINE.

(b) THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND THE STATE AUDITOR SHALL MEASURE THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE CREDIT IN ACHIEVING THE PURPOSE SPECIFIED IN SUBSECTION (1)(a) OF THIS SECTION BASED ON THE NUMBER OF CREDITS CLAIMED.

(2) AS USED IN THIS SECTION, UNLESS THE CONTEXT OTHERWISE REQUIRES:

(a) "AIRCRAFT" HAS THE SAME MEANING AS SET FORTH IN SECTION 43-10-102 (1).

(b) "AVIATION GASOLINE" MEANS GASOLINE-BASED FUEL THAT IS USED TO POWER AN AIRCRAFT.

(c) "LEADED AVIATION GASOLINE" MEANS ANY AVIATION FUEL CONTAINING TETRAETHYL LEAD ADDITIVES.

(d) "QUALIFYING AIRCRAFT" MEANS AN AIRCRAFT THAT HAS BEEN POWERED BY LEADED AVIATION GASOLINE AND FOR WHICH A SUPPLEMENTAL TYPE CERTIFICATE OR ANY OTHER AUTHORIZATION THAT APPROVES THE COMPLETED MODIFICATION OF THE AIRCRAFT TO BE POWERED BY UNLEADED AVIATION GASOLINE HAS BEEN ISSUED.

(e) "QUALIFYING EXPENSES" MEANS ANY ACTUAL OUT-OF-POCKET EXPENSES INCURRED AND PAID BY A QUALIFYING TAXPAYER FOR THE PURPOSE OF MODIFYING AN AIRCRAFT REGISTERED WITH THE FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION IN THIS STATE SO THAT IT IS A QUALIFYING AIRCRAFT.

(f) "QUALIFYING TAXPAYER" MEANS A PERSON SUBJECT TO TAX UNDER THIS ARTICLE 22 WHO IS THE OWNER OF AN AIRCRAFT AS INDICATED ON THE AIRCRAFT REGISTRY MAINTAINED BY THE FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION.

(g) "SUPPLEMENTAL TYPE CERTIFICATE" MEANS A TYPE CERTIFICATE ISSUED BY THE FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION TO AN APPLICANT THAT HAS MODIFIED AN AERONAUTICAL PRODUCT FROM ITS ORIGINAL DESIGN WITH FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION APPROVAL.

(h) "UNLEADED AVIATION GASOLINE" MEANS AVIATION GASOLINE THAT DOES NOT INCLUDE LEAD.

(3) FOR ANY INCOME TAX YEAR COMMENCING ON OR AFTER JANUARY 1, 2025, BUT BEFORE JANUARY 1, 2030, A QUALIFYING TAXPAYER WHO INCURS QUALIFYING EXPENSES IS ALLOWED A CREDIT AGAINST THE INCOME TAXES IMPOSED BY THIS ARTICLE 22 IN THE TAX YEAR IN WHICH THE QUALIFYING AIRCRAFT IS REGISTERED BY THE FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION IN THIS STATE IN AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO FIFTY PERCENT OF ALL QUALIFYING EXPENSES INCURRED; EXCEPT THAT THE MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF THE CREDIT THAT MAY BE CLAIMED FOR QUALIFYING EXPENSES INCURRED IN MODIFYING ANY ONE AIRCRAFT IS FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

(4) IF THE AMOUNT OF A CREDIT AUTHORIZED BY THIS SECTION EXCEEDS THE AMOUNT OF INCOME TAXES OTHERWISE DUE ON THE INCOME OF THE QUALIFYING TAXPAYER CLAIMING THE CREDIT IN THE INCOME TAX YEAR FOR WHICH THE CREDIT IS BEING CLAIMED, THE AMOUNT OF THE CREDIT NOT USED AS AN OFFSET AGAINST INCOME TAXES IN THAT INCOME TAX YEAR MAY BE CARRIED FORWARD AS A CREDIT AGAINST SUBSEQUENT YEARS' INCOME TAX LIABILITY FOR A PERIOD NOT EXCEEDING FIVE YEARS

AND MUST BE APPLIED FIRST TO THE EARLIEST INCOME TAX YEARS POSSIBLE. ANY CREDIT REMAINING AFTER THE PERIOD MAY NOT BE REFUNDED OR CREDITED TO THE QUALIFYING TAXPAYER.

(5) THIS SECTION IS REPEALED, EFFECTIVE DECEMBER 31, 2039.

ADDRESS BY CHAIRMAN HART

Hello and good morning to Governor Polis and Lt Governor Primavera and the Colorado Legislative Body today. We bring greetings from the UMUT to all the citizens of the State of Colorado. We appreciate the State of Colorado in recognizing today as Ute Day in recognition of all three of the Ute Tribal Nations.

This morning we had our traditional Ute prayers said to our creator for all of us. Our Ute songs were sung from our Ute singers and the beat of the thunder from our drums, echoed throughout the Capital building here in Denver Colorado.

Today the State of Colorado, recognize all the Ute people that are here and at home. Today Colorado also recognizes our Ute Tribal Council Members and our Ute Veterans and our Ute Royalty and all of our Ute Tribal members. We are at home here in Denver we are on our aboriginal lands that our ancestors from the past once roamed.

These Rocky Mountains from here in Denver and across the state of Colorado to Salt Lake city, Utah and on down to Northern NM and NE Arizona is the aboriginal lands of the Mountain people the Utes. We traveled all these mountains and valleys and plateaus and we have and today we bring a rich history from our Ute ancestors.

It is truly an honor to be here and we come before all of you, to address our concerns from the Ute Mountain Ute Tribe. In 2022 there was legislation passed Senate Bill 22-105 here in Colorado that we may have the opportunity to address the joint general assembly annually.
So that the two Ute Tribes, could put on the table our concerns and our issues, so that we may address the State legislative body with our current and future legislation.

Working through a democratic process with our Colorado Representative and Colorado State Senators to sponsor or co-sponsors Legislative Bills. On behalf of the two Ute Tribes, the Ute Mountain Ute Tribe and the Southern Ute Indian Tribe of Colorado.

There is also a Third Ute Tribe that also comes from Colorado but not established in Colorado and that is the Uintah and Ouray Tribe of Utah.

Today the Critical Race Theory and the history of race and sex has become a challenge in 18 States across the United States and they banned certain historical books about different ethnic groups including the Native Americans. Colorado is not one of them States.

When there was a partnership formed with the State of Colorado and the two Ute Tribes and other Tribal member within the State, on the Mascot Bill it was a challenge for us. Some of the schools did not understand why they had to change their Mascots. It was a teaching and a learning process for these school administrators and all the schools supporters including the students.

On derogatory acts of disrespecting these Mascots at the beginning of each of the games or with chants or the hand gestures during the game, including the half time events of wearing war bonnet head dresses. These are disrespectful to Indian Tribes. We have to and we must put into the public school a new curriculum, a true history of the past events. Just like today during our family gatherings we tell our children of their family history. Good and bad so that we may all learn and not make the same mistakes, but make sound decisions and developing a vision for a better future for all of our families.

Last year we brought this up at this time requesting an educational Native American History curriculum in our Public Schools. I know it is something we have been working on through a draft bill here in Colorado to include a broader and in debt Native American history curriculum. About all Native Americans history including the Ute People of Colorado.

We as the Ute People have lived here in these Rocky Mountains for thousands of years, within the geographical area, recognized today as the four States of Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona. We were a nomadic Tribe and we traveled these mountains as the original stewards of these mountains. Today the Utes are the oldest living resident in the State of Colorado.

There has been some past U.S. legislation that was not been in the best interest of the Ute People including other Tribes across this country. We as the Utes lost a majority of our aboriginal Land that we once roamed in a matter of 40 years, from 1849 to 1890, which started with our first treaty, with the U.S. Government in 1849 in Abique NM.

There was key legislation that removed the Ute people and other Native Tribes to reservations. Like the Homestead Act, Dawes Act which is the General Allotment Act, the Indian Reorganization Act, the discovery of Gold and Silver and other rich minerals in these rocky mountains. We did not become U.S. citizens until 1924. President Calvin Coolidge sign the Indian Citizenship Act. The American Indians were the first people of this country and are the last to receive citizenship. Today the UMUT is located in the very Southwest corner of Colorado on a tract of land 931 square miles.

We are here today to help and partner with the Colorado State Legislators in creating an education History Curriculum of the Ute Tribes and possible other Native American Tribes.

Today across the country the Health disparities is 3 times higher in Tribal Communities than most places across the country.

Some of our Tribal Nations are covered through the (IHS) Indian Health Service Clinics. Today these clinics are chronically underfunded annually. These clinics and hospitals are based on user population and funding increases are so far behind for services and construction of new health clinics and hospitals. In the 2022 budget close to 7 Billion dollars funded less than half of what patients needed on Tribal Indian reservations across this country.

Another challenge that we brought up is that, IHS has a lack health care staff. We have 14 health care position vacant in our health clinic in Toawoc. It takes almost one year for an applicant to go through a hiring process, based on the background check of an applicant. By the time an applicant gets to that point of being hired after a year, they have already moved on to other opportunities and jobs. I would recommend reading A Quiet Crisis.
From the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, there was a report put out, that examined six Federal Agencies intended to provide services and assist Native American tribes across the country: U.S. Department of Interior, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban development, U.S. Department of Justice, U.S. Department of Education, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In this report the commission assesses the in adequacy of funding provided to programs administered by these six U.S. Departments and the unmet need in Indian country. This study reveals that the federal funding directed to Native American Tribes through these programs with these agencies has not been sufficient to address the basic and very urgent needs of the indigenous people in this country.

So today I have a request to the Colorado State Legislatures and to Governor Polis. On the UMUT reservation we have a lot of our Tribal members on dialysis or in Stage l or Stage 2 of being a diabetic. Through the State of Colorado's Medicaid Program, could there be a program created and developed for the UMUT with an annual budget and to develop some (FTE) Full Time Employees. So that they may do home visits and check vitals and foot exams for our Tribal members that are diabetics.

We need prevention and education for these clients, before they get into a stage of amputations of their limbs. When a client gets to a point of amputations, then they lose hope on the lack of mobility, to just get around. A majority of them eventually give up, due to their new challenges and their new limited conditions in their life. This is where you put yourself in their shoes and feel what they are facing at home on the Reservation. Some of these challenges that I see today would be going to their medical appointments, shopping for their basic needs, visiting family, safely accessing and taking a bath or shower daily. They would also face staying with in a limited radius on limited travel. It is sad to see this in our families and with our tribal elders.

A question you might ask have you brought it up to your Provider the IHS. The answer is, yes we have brought this same request to the IHS, but it seems to fall on deaf ears and there has been no response back from the IHS. This program if developed, could also include, paying for person to help with home cleaning, cooking, running errands for medicine or groceries and to help in the daily home needs for the client, not full time but with limited hours.

Our Tribal (KCA) Kwigaht Community Academy Charter School is doing great. Today we have 56 Students K- 3' grade and 25 employees counting full time and part time working for the KCA. We be looking forward to possibly seeing an increase in wages for our teachers from the State of Colorado and for all of our public schools.

We are also applying for other funding sources to help in creating additional new curriculum for our KCA students. Goals for this year: increase attendance, provide transportation, continue developing our land —based projects that are based on the Ute Culture curriculum, focus on growing our own Ute classroom teachers as well as other teachers.

We are always looking for Capital funding for our future education quadrant. This is our educational Vision for the UMUT, and that is to look toward building a permanent school building of K-12th grade, a possible partnership on a junior college and a vocational trade's school for the UMUT.

We as the UMU Tribal council passed a resolution with a design and some infrastructure engineering as a living document to help create this education quadrant for our future. Some of you might know that we are getting close to the 2026 Interim guidelines for the Colorado River Basin. We have been working diligently with the UCRC. The representative for Colorado is Becky Mitchell, she is a fighter and a very strong advocate for the State of Colorado, but also for the justice of the Ute Tribes water rights within the State.

Each of these representatives are appointed by the Governor of each state. Each of these representatives advocate on the State water rights and future forecast for each of the four States of Colorado, Utah Wyoming and New Mexico, including partnering with the 6 Tribes of the upper basin.

These Tribes are: The Ute Mountain Ute Tribe and Southern Ute Indian Tribe from Colorado, from New Mexico Jicarilla Apache Tribe and the Navajo Nation, from Utah the Uintah and Ouray Tribe (Ute Tribe) and the Sothern Paiute Tribe. We have been working diligently and strategically with the UCRC.

We had a project in Durango called (the ALP project) the Animas La Plata project. It is based on a Ute water treaty settlement of 1868, for the two Ute Tribes in Colorado. The original settlement was the 2 Ute Tribes each have around 16 K/ acre Ft of water in Lake Nighthorse. If we included our other water partners in the Southwest, we have a full reservoir of 54 K/ acre Ft.

The original legislation include a delivery system to each of the two Ute Tribal reservations. That never came to fruition during the debate on funding for the ALP Settlement. The delivery system was taken out for the two Ute Tribes. But the Navajo Gallup Pipeline continues to get funding for their delivery system. Our water Resource committee have been discussing this issue on how does the UMUT get our share of the water of 16K/ acre Ft from Lake Nighthorse?

We could go back to the U.S. Congress in Wash DC and request them for more funding for a delivery system which would amount to around 500 million dollars that is just for the UMUT. That would also looking at applying for a request from the infrastructure Bill that was passed by congress.

We have also been talking about approaching both the State of Colorado and New Mexico. If we requested a release, for our UMUT water right of 16K/ acre ft of water out of Lake Nighthorse into the Animas River and down into New Mexico into the San Juan River it would eventually come back into Colorado at the very Southwest corner. Back into the UMUT reservation. But due to the 2 states of Colorado and NM and their State water compacts that is not possible.

The concern is the tracking and measurement of the amount of water in the system and the evaporation and transit loss that has to be factored in also. In this day and age through science and hydrology projections and including legal water Interpretation. There must be a process through legislation for issues on our water right like we have currently. Especially for the UMUT which has a water right in the three States of Colorado, NM and Utah. We also have an inherent right to use the water for our future needs of a growing Ute Mountain Ute Tribe.

We cannot change the past wrongs that happened. But we can learn from them today and we can understand what changes are needed and advocate for new amendments that need to be brought forward. We must and we should have a common vision and goals in all the important areas for all of our future here in Colorado.

In closing we want to thank all of you for giving us this opportunity to address the Senate and the House in a joint General Assembly, these days are historical for all of us.

To hear from a Tribal Government to a State Government as the sovereigns that we are. In advocating and working in a true partnership toward the future of all of the Colorado citizens including the two Ute Tribes and for the future of all of our children and grandchildren.

Thank You.

ADDRESS BY CHAIRMAN BAKER

Maykh! Members of the Colorado House of Representatives and the Colorado Senate, staff and guests. Thank you for the opportunity to address you today. My name is Melvin J. Baker. I am the Chairman of the Southern Ute Indian Tribe.

Our Tribe has a strong government-to-government relationship with the State of Colorado. State and Tribal relations vary significantly across the Country and are often strained. Colorado serves as a model for state-tribal relations. It is a relationship that we are continually working on and improving.

But the relationship we have today has not always existed. Colorado, like many states, has had a turbulent history with Tribal governments. Which includes broken promises and ignored treaties. Colorado, the Southern Ute Indian Tribe, and the Ute Mountain Ute Tribe have worked hard over the past decades to overcome that difficult history so that we may respect each other's sovereignty and work together for the benefit of all Coloradans.

But I am here today to tell you that we are in danger of damaging that relationship because of the actions of a few individuals who would rather dishonor our longstanding commitments for short-term gain. To provide context concerning this danger, I would like to start with an introduction to the Southern Ute Indian Tribe.

The Utes are the oldest continuous inhabitants of what is now the State of Colorado. We do not have a migration story. According to our Creation story, we were placed in the Rocky Mountains by Sinwav who promised "The Utes, even though they are few in number, will be the mightiest and most valiant of heart."

The Ute people are resilient. We are still here, fighting and advocating every day for our people and the lands we inhabit.

The lands of the Southern Ute Indian Tribe were at one time much larger. In 1849, we first entered into a Treaty with the United States government establishing a boundary between the Ute Nation and the United States. But as mining companies identified minerals on the Ute lands, that Treaty and successive Treaties with the Utes were repeatedly broken. In the 1870's, Felix Brunot, through deception, convinced the Ute bands to, once again, give up more land to benefit mining companies who wanted access to the minerals in the San Juan mountains. Although the evidence of fraud in the negotiations was evident, Congress confirmed the Brunot Agreement in 1874. Once again, the commitments of the United States to the Ute Tribes were disregarded for the economic benefit of a few.

Those mining companies are, of course, gone, having plundered the mountains and left. Today, the Southern Ute Indian Tribe is located in southwest Colorado. We have close to 1500 Tribal Members, about 1000 of whom live on the Reservation. Our Reservation is 110 miles long and 75 miles wide. It is checkerboarded with Tribal trust lands, Indian allotments, homestead fee tracts, Tribal-owned or Native-owned fee land, and Bureau of Reclamation and National Forest land. As a result, the Tribe must navigate jurisdictional and governance complexities. Despite these complexities, our Reservation is our home and we intend to preserve it and protect our sovereignty.

Despite the loss of substantial resources through the violation of our Treaty rights, we have utilized those natural and economic resources that remain on our lands to provide a future for our people and to benefit the broader community. Through foresight, financial planning, and technical expertise, the Southern Ute Indian Tribe is a leader across Indian country. As a developer of energy resources, real estate, construction, and private equity: our Tribe is the largest employer in La Plata County with over 1000 employees. We are well respected for our financial integrity. Earlier this month, we were honored to have our Triple A credit rating reaffirmed, a rating that is higher than that of the federal government. This reflects the Tribe's ability to meet financial commitments and uphold a robust financial profile, even in the face of national and global economic challenges. Our Tribe was the first in the nation to receive this rating in 2001 and we have maintained this status since.

The Tribe is a unique and critical partner for the State. Let me be perfectly clear. The Tribe pays taxes. We have longstanding tax compacts with the State and our adjoining Counties. We have paid tens of millions of dollars in taxes to support community services. We honor our compacts with the State, just like the State should honor its compacts with and promises to us. In addition, businesses located on the Reservation provide substantial revenue to state and local governments.

But what is unique is that we provide services to residents of Colorado who are not members of our Tribe. Our Reservation is home to over 10,000 Native and Non-Native Colorado residents and families. And when it comes to services, those are often provided by the Tribe at no cost to the State.

Here are some examples: We provide health care for over 2100 patients, and almost 40,000 patient visits annually through a Tribal Member health benefit plan. We spend millions providing social services, law enforcement, detention and judicial services for all of the Native population within the Reservation boundaries. We provide elementary education for children, including non-Tribal member children, through our Montessori Academy.
We regulate air quality under the Clean Air Act on the Reservation and maintain water quality standards exceeding those of the state and federal government. We maintain the Pine River Indian Irrigation project which brings water to tribal and non-tribal farmers on the Reservation. This system is a federal project and we have absorbed the costs associated with maintenance for the benefit of these farmers and ranchers for decades. We are engaged in an $80 million dollar initiative to bring broadband to the Reservation communities, servicing both tribal and non-tribal members alike.

There is a hospital in La Plata County – because the Tribe provided the land for it and donated millions for the medical care it provides. We are utilizing Tribal resources to bring affordable housing to the community so that necessary employees, including educators, health care workers, and first responders have affordable housing.

We provide these services typically at the Tribe's expense, in some cases despite the State's commitment to provide funding - that has not materialized – for Colorado residents to enhance the community we share.

As we look ahead, I implore you to please remember these principles which serve as the foundation of our relationship and are essential to our shared progress:

First, mutual recognition and respect of each other's sovereignty. As self-governing entities, we each have our own laws, codes, and processes. As we move forward together in this legislative session and beyond, I encourage you to please remember your neighbors: the Southern Ute Indian Tribe and the Ute Mountain Ute Tribe. Please consider what effects or impacts legislation may have on our Tribes and our Tribal Members. This recognition of sovereignty necessitates meaningful consultation.

Second, Consultation. I look forward to developing and strengthening our relationship in the years to come. Consultation is a critical component, especially on legislation or policy that may affect one or both parties.

This consultation should be an open exchange of information and perspectives, ensuring Tribal voices are heard and considered. To be meaningful, this consultation must take place early in the legislative process, not at the last minute or as an afterthought.

By working together, we can identify potential impacts of legislation on Tribal communities and explore solutions that benefit all parties. I commend Secretary of State, Jena Griswold, for her efforts to codify Tribal consultation with her office to ensure the protection of Tribal voting rights and voting access.

Finally, Cooperation. Unity in diversity and a commitment to cooperation is key to our success. Our social and economic well-being are heavily intertwined. This applies to everything from social programs and education to infrastructure to civic participation, economic growth, and environmental and resource protection.

This cooperative spirit, even in the face of disagreement, is the cornerstone of a strong and resilient relationship. It allows us to leverage the diverse strengths and perspectives of our citizens, fostering innovation and tackling complex challenges more effectively.

By working together, we can bridge divides, build trust, and create a sense of shared purpose.

Ultimately, this cooperation is the fuel that propels us forward, enabling us to progress not just as individuals, but as united Coloradans.

I encourage all members of this body to join me in upholding these principles of mutual recognition, consultation, and cooperation. As I indicated in my opening remarks, these principles are in jeopardy today. While assimilation and eradication policies are long gone there are new proposals and actions promoted by a handful of individuals that risk filling these shoes and are designed to encourage the State to disregard the solemn commitments it made to the Tribes for their individual economic benefit. I want to highlight three critical areas this morning:

Our first area is Gaming: We have had a gaming compact with the State for almost 30 years. We have always honored our commitments under that Compact which was approved by this body and the Secretary of Interior. The language of that compact could not be more clear. When Colorado approves any gaming, the Tribe can engage in exactly the same gaming. And it is not subject to any tax or fee. Why? Because under federal law, we can only use the money for the public welfare – to provide all of those services that we provide the residents of Colorado.

When this body and the voters of Colorado approved sports betting four years ago, everyone knew that this permitted the Tribe to also engage in sports betting.

But the Colorado Department of Gaming has prevented my Tribe and our Sister Tribe, the Ute Mountain Utes, from engaging in sports betting, refusing to honor our Compact. Various gaming interests from New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Nevada, and other states will try to encourage you not to honor the State's agreement for their economic benefit. Today, despite the legislation you passed and the Compact you entered into with the Tribes, not a single Native Casino or Native owned business is operating sports betting in Colorado.

Outside gaming companies will tell you that they want a level playing field – that the Tribe should have to pay the same tax they do. They know better. There will never be a level playing field. There has been a four year delay in the Tribes entering this market. It is already saturated. With their monopoly, we simply cannot reasonably break into the sports betting market. And they are not paying tens of millions of dollars every year as a governmental entity to benefit the residents of Colorado like we are.

When I addressed this body last year, I made one request. That the State resolve this issue. We met with the Governor. He assured us that under the new Director of CODOG, that one of the priorities would be to visit the Tribe and resolve this issue. This individual has been in office since August, and we have never heard from him.

Senator Rodriguez is prepared to introduce legislation on behalf of the Tribes to bring this matter to a conclusion. The out of state gaming interests are opposing it. Enough is enough. We are tired of broken promises. We thank Sen. Rodriguez for his support and we ask that you pass Senator Rodriguez's legislation this session.

Next, I would like to discuss Annexation: The last two centuries have been plagued by unceasing efforts and policies to remove our ancestral homelands and identity from our people. One would think that the days of taking land from Tribes is over. But it continues today.

A brief look at history shows a pattern of promises made, promises broken, and Tribal land removed from Tribal control. In 1868, the Utes entered a treaty with the United States Government to create the original Reservation which allocated approximately 15 million acres on the Western Slope "for the absolute and undisturbed use and occupation of the" Ute people. Five years later, in 1873, the Brunot Agreement carved out an additional 3.7 million acres of land.

Still, these large land cessions were not enough. In 1880, Congress removed the Southern Utes to "unoccupied agricultural lands on the La Plata River." This removal followed the Meeker Incident, which erupted when our ancestors resisted assimilation, and the US responded by withholding treaty-guaranteed food and supplies. In the aftermath, the Utes agreed to open the remainder of the 1868 Reservation to non-Native settlement.

In 1895, Congress passed the Allotment Act, which further breached treaty promises and forever altered the Ute's relationship to the land. Following this, the US deemed the Reservation complete and opened the remainder of the land to homesteading. By 1934, more than one-half of our Reservation was occupied by non-Native homesteaders. This history has cast a long shadow.

Today, our Reservation is comprised of a fragment of the lands originally promised to us.
The Tribe has worked hard over the years to establish cooperative relationships with the State, particularly with La Plata County, to address these complexities.

Unfortunately, we are confronted once more with official efforts to encroach on our lands.
A neighboring city seeks to annex lands within the Reservation's exterior boundaries, which would result in more jurisdictional complexity. If successful, this could lead to Tribal lands being subjected to annexation by outside governments and would severely infringe on our sovereignty.

We have lost enough land. Tribal lands must remain tribal lands unless the Tribe consents to their release. I strongly urge the State to act swiftly to protect our home, land, and sovereign interests, and to pass legislation immediately to prohibit the annexation of Tribal lands without the Tribe's consent.

I commend and thank Senator Jessie Danielson, Senator Cleve Simpson, House Majority Leader Representative Monica Duran, and House Minority Leader Rose Pugliese for their sponsorship of a bill addressing the annexation of Reservation land in Colorado, and President Fenberg and leadership for approval of a late bill.

Finally, We will protect our Tribal Water. Water is critical to our way of life. We are taught to respect the water and we use it in our prayers and ceremonies.

We are protecting the water for our current needs, and we are protecting the water for our future generations. Conservation of natural resources is fundamental to our Ute identity.
The Tribe has worked long and hard to settle its water rights. Congress affirmed our 1986 settlement, which resulted in a quantified water right and an authorization of the Animas-La Plata Project. The Settlement Act was later amended in 2000. Nevertheless, we are constantly working to ensure that others do not take the Tribe's water rights.

The Tribe has two water projects: First, the Animas-La Plata Project which was authorized by the 1988 Settlement Act. The primary objective of this Project was to supply agricultural, municipal, and industrial water to Southern Ute and Ute Mountain Ute. However, the 2000 Amendments eliminated the agricultural component.

As a result, the water can only be used for municipal and industrial uses. The Tribe has not found a feasible use for the water yet, due to two hurdles: limited infrastructure and the high costs of managing the water once it is accessed. However, we are exploring options to utilize this water to benefit our Tribal members and the community now and into the future.

Second, the Pine River Indian Irrigation Project (PRIIP), was designed to force farming on the Utes by the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The construction of ditches began in the late 1800's and the last major improvement was in the 1960's. The Bureau of Indian Affairs owns the PRIIP and has the responsibility of operating and maintaining the system. This project runs 175 miles with 2,100 individual structures but only 15% is in good operable condition.

The lack of funding remains a critical issue especially as we have approximately 400 water users, including non-Tribal farmers and ranchers who depend on this project and pay the costly fees from already thin margins.

With respect to the Colorado River, Tribes have been left out of key conversations for too long. As a result, my Tribe has been focused on gaining inclusion in the current discussions occurring within the Colorado River Basin.

We want a seat at the table, to be heard, and to be part of the decision-making circle so that we can protect our water rights and not be overlooked. We want the Basin Tribes to commit to protecting Tribal water rights. In addition, we want a commitment that there will be no caps placed on the future development of our water resources. We appreciate the State of Colorado's effort in including and amplifying tribal voices in water conversations.
For example, Commissioner Rebecca Mitchell has been vocal in supporting Tribal inclusion in Colorado River Basin discussions. Additionally, the Colorado River Drought Task Force and the Sub-Task Force had a seat for a representative from both Ute Tribes.

We thank the Colorado Legislature for drafting a Joint Memorial to make a request to Congress to fully allocate the Water Infrastructure Improvements for the Nation Act Fund, and particularly Senators Roberts, Simpson and Danielson, Speaker McCluskie and Representatives McLachlan and Catlin for sponsoring the memorial. We appreciate your support to secure funding for the PRIIP.

We would also like to thank Attorney General Phil Weiser for his vigilance in supporting the interests of the State of Colorado in protecting the State's and Tribe's water rights and ensuring the Tribe has a seat at the table in all negotiations.

The Southern Ute Indian Tribe and the State of Colorado have a unique relationship. We need to continue it. We must preserve and protect it. We may disagree. But we always find a way to move forward, through working relationships formalized by Compacts and memoranda of agreements. Let us continue to honor the promises we make to each other to ensure a sustainable and secured future. The strength of our relationship allows for even difficult issues to be addressed through mutual accountability. Let us not allow special interests to destroy what makes Colorado so special. In recognition of the groundwork laid by our ancestors, past Tribal leaders, and past Legislators, let us commit ourselves to carrying on their legacy to build a better tomorrow for us all.

Toghoyaqh!

The Joint Committee escorted the Tribal Representatives from the Ute Mountain Ute Tribe Tribal Council and the Southern Ute Indian Tribe Tribal Council from the Chamber.

On motion of House Majority Leader Duran, the messages from Chairman Hart and Chairman Baker was ordered printed in the House Journal.

On motion of Senate Majority Leader Rodriguez, the Joint Session was dissolved.

House reconvened.

Renumber succeeding sections accordingly.

HB24-1350 be amended as follows, and as so amended, be referred to the Committee on Appropriations with favorable recommendation:

Amend printed bill, strike everything below the enacting clause and substitute:

"SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds that:

(a) The general assembly, along with other state legislatures, the United States congress, and the United Nations, has identified that family court reform is necessary to prevent the common occurrence of awarding parental responsibilities for minor children to perpetrators of violence, including perpetrators of intimate partner violence, child abuse, and child sexual abuse;

(b) United Nations experts have described the issue of protecting victims of abuse in custody disputes, particularly women and children, as an international crisis;

(c) Recently, the general assembly passed House Bill 21-1228 and House Bill 23-1178. Among other things, these bills require certain court personnel who are involved in parental responsibility proceedings to complete training with evidence-based and peer-reviewed curricula in domestic violence, child abuse, and child sexual abuse. The bills also require court findings related to domestic violence, child abuse, and child sexual abuse when determining parental responsibilities, and they require certain court-appointed expert witnesses in parental responsibilities proceedings to have appropriate qualifications. Finally, the bills limit the use of reunification treatment when a claim of domestic violence, child abuse, or child sexual abuse has been made, and they conform with the provisions of the federal "Keeping Children Safe from Family Violence Act", or "Kayden's Law". Additional clarification and protections for children and former partners are needed to build upon House Bill 21-1228 and House Bill 23-1178.

(d) Additionally, the general assembly recently passed House Bill 23-1108. The bill addressed the important and difficult work of child and family investigators and parental responsibilities evaluators and their roles in making courts safer and more accessible for domestic violence survivors. It is imperative that judges understand the work of these critical court personnel and both the positive effect or the negative consequences it may have depending upon training. The recommendations made by the task force to study victim and survivor awareness and responsiveness training requirements for judicial personnel, created pursuant to House Bill 23-1108, recognized the need to expand expertise and knowledge regarding the effect of domestic violence exposure on children, power dynamics following partner separation, the reliability of information presented to the court, and the role of the court in protecting children. Implementing these recommendations is critical to help judges work effectively with child and family investigators and parental responsibilities evaluators to improve support of domestic violence survivors.

(2) (a) Therefore, the general assembly declares it is necessary to expand opportunities to ensure a child's opinions are entered into the record and considered by the court when determining parental responsibilities, to consider coercive control by perpetrators of violence, and to clarify and expand the state's role and responsibilities to ensure these standards are upheld.

(b) Furthermore, the general assembly declares that it is encouraged by the recommendations made by the task force to study victim and survivor awareness and responsiveness training requirements for judicial personnel, created pursuant to House Bill 23-1108. The general assembly looks forward to the judicial department's implementation of these recommendations, including actions necessary to comply with the federal "Keeping Children Safe from Family Violence Act", or "Kayden's Law".
